Iran, Saudi Arabia bury hatchet in peace deal brokered by China

The agreement came on a day when Xi Jinping's third term as Chinese president was endorsed by the country's Parliament. Under the pact struck in Beijing on Friday, Shia-majority Iran and Sunni Saudi Arabia will reopen their embassies in each other's capitals in two months. OFF SPIN, ON TARGET

Ashwin's guile, Khawaja's patience and Green's belligerence... A look at the dominant personalities on Day 2 of the fourth Test of the series | P19

Ashwin serves up another big performance

R Ashwin played some of his greatest hits — variation, speeds, flights, trajectories and angles — to pick up a six-wicket haul on one of the best batting days of the series to restrict the tourists to 480

Khawaja and Green make merry

The visitors needed big runs to ensure against defeat in Ahmedabad and they may have done that thanks to Usman Khawaja and Cameron Green who put on 200 runs for the 5th wicket

Taking pitch out of equation

While other bowlers went for a combined 1/191 in 55 overs, Ashwin picked 5/34 in his 22.2 overs on Friday

113

Another record where the off-spinner went past Kumble. With his show on Day 2, Ashwin has the most number of wickets for India against Australia in Tests

26

Ashwin went past Anil Kumble's 25 five-wicket hauls to register most number of fifers by an Indian. It is also the joint-second highest at home. Lanka's Herath shares the mark

BIG SATURDAY IN PROSPECT

The strip is expected to stay true for another day, the hosts will at least hope that's the case as they chase a mountain of runs to restore parity in the Test. If they bat right through Saturday, they can have designs of winning a 16th consecutive home series. However, their goal is to win as it guarantees their qualification to the final of the World Test Championship

PM FLAGS TEMPLE VANDALISM IN AUS BY KHALISTANIS

Holds talks with his Australian counterpart on enhancing security and economic engagements

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi on Friday shared with his Australian counterpart Anthony Albanese India's concern over the vandalism of temples across Australia by Khalistani elements, during their summit talks on a range of bilateral and global issues here.

"It is a matter of regret that attacks on temples have been regularly reported in Australia over the past few weeks. He has assured me that the safety of the Indian community is a special priority for him. Our teams will be in regular touch on this topic, and will cooperate as much as possible," Modi said.

The talks covered strategic convergence and common interests between the two countries, including in the Indo-Pacific region.

"Security cooperation is an important pillar of our Comprehensive Strategic Partnership. We had detailed discussions on maritime security in the Indo-Pacific region, and ways to increase mutual defence and security cooperation. To enhance contact and friendship among our young soldiers, we have established the General Rawat Officers Exchange Programme, which has started this month," the prime minister added.

On education, Modi said the two sides have signed a mechanism for mutual recognition of educational qualifications. "We are also moving forward on the Mobility Agreement. It will be beneficial for students, workers, and professionals."

The Economic Cooperation and Trade Agreement (ECTA) that was implemented last year, has opened up better opportunities for trade and investment between the two countries, he said, adding both sides are now working on arriving at a Comprehensive Economic Cooperation Agreement (CECA). The CECA will be a transformational deal that will create new jobs and opportunities in both countries.

Albanese said, "Building a stronger partnership with India will deliver tangible benefits for Australia in trade and investment, education, renewable energy, defence, security and culture."

Modi will attend the Quad Summit in May in Australia, following which the two leaders will meet again in India in September for the G20 Summit.

Eight villages in Uttara Kannada to boycott polls

SUBHASH CHANDRA NS @ Karwar

PEOPLE of eight villages in Uttara Kannada district have threatened to boycott the assembly elections in protest against lack of basic amenities in their villages.

Halkadi, Hosakoppa and Kodsur villages in Sirsi taluk are facing a severe shortage of drinking water. Political parties had promised the people of these villages that they would tackle the water crisis and provide other amenities if they voted them to power during the last elections. But the promises have not been fulfilled. This has angered the villagers. "Let them come seeking votes this time, we will give them a proper dressing down. Everytime, they fool us by making empty promises," said Manjunath Naik, a villager.

These villages are in the forest area and lack amenities such as roads, water, schools and toilets. Upset with the attitude of the politicians, people have banned their entry into their villages. They have put up banners stating that "Politicians are not welcome here" and "Give us roads and then seek votes".

Two villages in Nandigadda GP limits in Joida taluk and two more in Haliyal GP limits have decided to boycott elections. These villages lack roads, transport, and drinking water. "If leaders are unable to provide basic amenities, they are unfit to be in power. We have decided not to exercise our franchisee this time," said Suraj Dabgar, a villager.

ED searches Tejashwi's Delhi house, other locations linked to Lalu family

AMIT MUKHERJEE & RAMASHANKAR @ New Delhi/ Patna

THE Enforcement Directorate (ED) on Friday conducted searches in multiple cities of Bihar, Delhi NCR, Mumbai and other locations associated with RJD chief Lalu Prasad Yadav as part of its probe into the money laundering angle in the land-for-jobs scam.

The searches were conducted at Lalu Prasad's son and Bihar Deputy Chief Minister Tejashwi Yadav's Friends Colony residence in New Delhi, besides the premises of his daughters Ragini Yadav, Chanda Yadav and Hema Yadav.

Tejashwi was present at his Friends Colony residence when the ED sleuths knocked at the door. He had gone to New Delhi soon after Lalu was questioned by the CBI on March 7.

The premises of former RJD MLA Abu Dojana were also searched. Sources said cash and property documents were recovered from the former MLA's house. Dojana is a close associate of Lalu and his company, Meridian Construction India Limited, was constructing a mall belonging to Lalu and family. The ED had seized the mall in 2018.

The searches come close of the heels of the questioning of Lalu Prasad and his wife, former Bihar chief minister Rabri Devi, by the CBI in Patna and New Delhi.

The ED's action is a follow-up of the investigation by the CBI on the acquisition of illegal assets by the Yadav family using the proceeds from land-for-jobs scam. The CBI had filed a chargesheet in the matter in October last year. Further investigations are on.

According to ED sources, the federal agency raided 24 locations in Bihar, Delhi NCR, Uttar Pradesh, Jharkhand and Haryana associated with Lalu Yadav, his relatives and close associates for possessing assets disproportionate to known sources of income.

In October last year, the CBI filed a chargesheet against Lalu Prasad, his wife Rabri Devi and 14 others in connection with the land-for-jobs scam case. The alleged scam took place when Lalu Prasad was the Union railway minister in the UPA-1 government during 2004-2009.

LAND-FOR-JOBS SCAM

Several persons allegedly gifted or sold their land at huge discount to the Lalu family in exchange for railway jobs. They were allegedly appointed as substitutes in group D positions and were later regularised

IISc to inspect safety aspects on Metro lines

S LALITHA @ Bengaluru

A team from IISc has been roped in by BMRCL to oversee all aspects related to safety at construction sites of three of its upcoming lines. The team, which began work on Wednesday, has been asked to hand over its report in 75 days.

The Outer Ring Road Line (KR Puram to Silk Board), the Airport Line (KR Puram to KIA) and the underground corridor from Kalena Agrahara to Nagawara, which are under construction, will be inspected by the three-member team. This appears to have been prompted by the January 10 accident in which a woman and her son were killed when a Metro pillar under construction fell on them. Minor accidents involving BMRCL's barricades and sinkholes too occurred last month. Team members are: JM Chandra Kishen, Professor, Department of Civil Engineering, Lakshminarayana Rao, Associate Professor, Centre for Sustainable Technologies and Ramesh Babu Narayanappa, who worked previously with the Centre for Infrastructure, Sustainable Transportation and Urban Planning.

Prof Kishen said, "We will examine all safety aspects at Metro construction sites, including barricading. We will also study the guidelines provided and check if contractors are adhering to them. The traffic scene at the sites and the junctions nearby would also be examined in detail."

DEMOLITION DRIVE

DON'T ACT IN HASTE ON GANDHI BAZAAR SHOPS: HC TO BBMP

Owners seek assurance of alternative spots

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court directed BBMP not to take precipitative action, pursuant to the notice issued to petitioner-owners of shops in Gandhi Bazaar Market, to vacate the premises.

Justice Suraj Govindaraj passed the order after hearing the petition filed by KR Vinayaka and eight others, who run shops at Gandhi Bazaar Market, owned by the BBMP.

The Palike, through its notice dated February 22, 2023, directed the petitioners to vacate their premises within seven days, saying it wanted to demolish and rebuild the shopping complex under the Bengaluru Smart City Project.

The petitioners stated that BBMP had issued notice on August 18, 2022, directing them to pay rental arrears and vacate the premises within 15 days. In response to this, some of the petitioners paid the demanded amount, and others are willing to pay.

All of them have been requesting BBMP to give an assurance that they would be given temporary accommodation to carry on their business at an alternative place, and that they will be given shops in the newly built shopping complex. However, BBMP authorities have assured the petitioners orally that they will do so, but are not ready to give any assurance in writing, the petitioners pleaded.

The petitioners have also stated that they have no objection to the demolition of the dilapidated building and reconstruction of a new building on the premises. However, as the petitioners' earnings are meagre, they cannot stop business for the same, and have been requesting BBMP to make alternative arrangements so they can continue their businesses, or will be put to great hardship. However, BBMP is going ahead with the demolition without considering their request, the petitioners alleged.

Issuing notice to the BBMP, the court adjourned the hearing to March 17, 2023.

Classes 5, 8 students to be assessed by schools: HC

ENS @ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court on Friday quashed the circular issued by the Department of School Education and Literacy to change the assessment method for Classes 5 and 8 students for the academic year 2022-23. The department wanted to conduct exams through the Karnataka School Examination and Assessment Board (KSEAB) instead of school-level assessment, as was done till the previous academic year.

Justice Pradeep Singh Yerur passed the order while allowing the petitions by the Organisation for Unaided Recognised Schools, Registered Unaided Private Schools' Management Association Karnataka and others, challenging the circular dated December 12, 2022.

The court also quashed the communication dated January 4, 2023, issued by the Commissioner of Public Instructions, pursuant to the impugned circular. Therefore, the performance of students appearing for exams commencing on March 13, will have to be assessed at the school level, as per the existing mechanism.

The court orally observed that quashing the circular does not mean that the state government cannot bring in a mechanism, but it shall bring it in the next academic year by following the prescribed procedure. Though it appreciated and lauded the state government for bringing in a proper mechanism for assessment, considering the mushrooming of schools in every district, the court said it is necessary that the state government follows proper procedure.

KSR RAIL STATION CONCOURSE AREA DESPERATE FOR AMENITIES

S LALITHA @ Bengaluru

AMENITIES in the mid portion of the concourse area of the KSR Railway Station are pathetic. Barring a recently opened jute bag shop and a spiritual book store, there are no drink, food or snack outlets that passengers desperately require. To top it, visitors walk around clueless, seeking directions in the absence of signboards.

'Closed' and 'Tender in progress' are the boards that greet a passenger here. A bustling snacks and drinks shop run by the Indian Railway Catering and Tourism Corporation has been closed, putting all to inconvenience. A milk stall and an outlet by the Himachal Pradesh Marketing Corporation too have been closed. The sole enquiry counter is not sufficient to respond to the queries of passengers thronging the place. This reporter was asked directions for different amenities by five individuals separately during a half-hour stay at the station.

More embarrassing are three gaping holes in the false ceiling, one of which is bang in front of Nandini stall. This is where water from the bathrooms or toilets of the male and female dormitories on the first floor leak. A staffer says, "The hole has been here for a few months. We have repeatedly requested Railways to look into it. People having a drink here get upset when water falls on them or their drink."

This reporter visited KMA Guesthouse, which has been contracted with running the dormitories. Manager Rashid Ahmed said he had fixed the issue a few times, but the problem recurs. "Only when the entire false ceiling is repaired, can it be set right," he added.

Additional Divisional Railway Manager Kusuma Hariprasad said, "I will ask the department to install the signboards immediately to guide passengers."

NAAC: CAG report not final, reply being prepared

ENS @ Bengaluru

THE National Assessment and Accreditation Council (NAAC) has clarified on the issue of alleged discrepancies found by the CAG report.

Inspections undertaken by NAAC found several discrepancies and irregularities in the CAG report. In a statement, NAAC has stated that the CAG report is still not considered final, as a compliance reply issued by the Council director is still under consideration by CAG. "The office of the CAG has also suggested some changes which are also being incorporated, and a revised draft is under preparation," the statement said.

The CAG report comes days after former NAAC executive committee chairman Bhushan Patwardhan's resignation, after demanding an investigation into the processes of the Council. Patwardhan had alleged that universities were gaining their NAAC accreditation and grades through unfair means. In a letter to the University Grants Commission (UGC) chairman, he had asked for an independent inquiry to be made into the operations of NAAC, and cited "vested interests and malpractices". In its statement related to the CAG report, NAAC has stated that they have continued to follow practices to ensure that institutions are hand-held in the processes of accreditation and assessment. In a previous statement, NAAC had stated that they follow a strict four-step process in awarding grades, including submission of a report by a peer review team.

In one case, regarding the adherence of institutions to the academic calendar, NAAC has stated that these are done by peer teams during on-site visits. "The peer team members evaluated the same during on-site visits and assigned marks based on their collective knowledge and wisdom, and documents as provided by the HEI, which is subjective in nature," they said.

Should take students' input in functioning of schools, says educationist

DONNA EVA @ Bengaluru

A recent case of sexual assault against several girls in a government-run residential school has yet again shown a spotlight on the running of the hostels.

The issue comes as five were arrested in connection with a sexual assault case against several girl students of a government-run residential school in Belur taluk of Hassan district. Five staffers, including the principal and security guard, were arrested following allegations from eight girls studying in the school that they were being sexually assaulted. The girls claimed that they had been protesting for a change of principal, as well as better security facilities within the hostel where they were residing, for several months. However, they said these had fallen on deaf ears. Following a visit by Social Welfare Department officials, a complaint had been filed against the school principal, as well as a security guard and two teachers.

The issue has once again brought to attention the issue of a lack of facilities in the residential schools operated by the Social Welfare Department. While officials maintain that basic facilities are provided, this is not the case based on ground reports at the schools themselves. "There is definitely a lack of basic facilities, especially in the schools I have visited personally. This is both in terms of physical facilities, as well as providing good nutritious food and drinking water. Also, there is a major lack of security measures at these schools," said development educationist VP Niranjanaradhya.

Several protests have also been reported across the state at hostels, demanding better facilities and citing safety concerns, especially in hostels at capacity. "The process should be more transparent, especially in taking into consideration student opinions of what is lacking and how things can be improved. This should be a democratic process. Cases like these can be avoided if stringent action is immediately taken even when issues like these occur," he said.

Meanwhile, students have also stated that available facilities in hostels are not properly maintained, as these jobs are often outsourced, especially in cleaning of toilets. The girls who had made the allegations had also stated that the hostel did not have adequate drinking water facilities and poor quality of food.

PETER VIDAL

11TH March : A powerful Moon adds spice to the day's proceedings. Above all, this is a day for action, and people who prefer to sit around and talk, and do tomorrow the things which should be done today, will be out of favour. If you feel lazy, don't worry. Keep your head down for a few days and your time will come.

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
Monetary matters are again highlighted, which could mean that this is a fine day for a spot of uncontrollable extravagance! On a deeper psychological level you are driven by a need to feel appreciated and valued. Honestly, you probably deserve a little extra attention.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
The Moon enables you to act with sensitivity and compassion, and this really is a case of least said, soonest mended. You may turn your attention to friends and loved ones who need your support, not a ticking off. Respect authority by all means, but don't be cowed by it.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
Discretion may be the better part of valour, at least for another twenty-four hours. At home you are likely to be in a crusading mood and, if aroused, you will fight other people's battles as if they were your own. Watch out that you don't shoulder too much responsibility, though.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
You may well feel that relations, friends and even business associates have been unreasonable, not to say unkind. However, over the next week or so, you will begin to see how you can gain the upper hand, especially in cash matters. If you do get an advantage, use it wisely.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
Your confidence is set to rise - a process which you can aid. If you abandon lingering pride, you will begin to realise that nobody has genuinely offended or slighted you. Perhaps you should give a partner the benefit of the doubt. You know it makes sense!

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
Even current battles over matters of principle should do little to dent your interests. In affairs of the heart, you should concentrate on friendship rather than intensity and passion. If you're in an extravagant mood, you may now spend on pleasure rather than necessities.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
It's an imaginative moment, and artistic and creative types should redouble their efforts. This includes all of you to some extent, for what is common to your sign is an ability to perform every task with original and expressive flare. What's more, your valuable experience is also coming into play now.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
It is perhaps too much to expect partners to compromise. But, then, why should they? You may have a very good instinct for what is right in general, but others have a much more appropriate notion of what is best in particular circumstances. Listen well, for you might hear something of value!

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
It's a day for work. This doesn't necessarily mean that you'll be tied to routine chores, but it does indicate that the most appropriate leisure activities will be those that keep you active - and involve new skills. In fact, you might find that a private interest could bring financial profit.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
Give a priority to pleasure today. It's definitely a moment to get out and about and all sporting and competitive types are favoured. You could well be ready for a quiet evening, or, if you're going out, some sort of serious entertainment. Old-fashioned pleasures could be most attractive.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Encouraging planetary aspects relate to money and to family affairs. If any sort of domestic spending is on the cards, even if you're in the housing market, the indications are exceedingly positive indeed. The best relationships are based around shared activities rather than raw passion.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
There's a sort of growing exuberance today, perhaps a sense of anticipation. You may hear long-awaited personal news but, if it doesn't arrive, you should take the initiative. Your emotions continue to benefit from smooth Venusian influences and mature Saturnine instincts.

- Although Mysore is an attraction for tourists, it has not developed after several years since independence.
- This old state highway had several accident-prone turns. In 1983, a bus carrying school children on an educational trip from Tamil Nadu to Mysore met with an accident near Mayaganahalli near Bidadi on the Bangalore-Mysore highway, killing 23 students and injuring several others.

- Due to this, frequent fatal accidents were prevented in this place. Accordingly, the Bangalore-Mysore state highway frequently leaves Bangalore. Between Bidadi - Ramanagara, Ramanagara - Channapatna and Channapatna - Maddur, road black spots were identified and road safety works were carried out to prevent accidents.
- Realizing the fast growing vehicular traffic on this state highway, Mr. H.D. - In 1991, Mr. H.D. Deve Gowda represented Hassan in the Lok Sabha. Deve Gowda, realizing the impact and benefits of this economic reform, as the Chief Minister of the state in 1994 initiated the construction of the Mysore In Prospector Corridor (BMICP) between Bangalore and Mysore.

PWD Minister CC Patil denied that state Housing Minister V Somanna is planning to quit BJP and join Congress. He told mediapersons in Vijayapura on Friday, "The reports are baseless as Somanna will not quit BJP. I have already held talks with him as he is one of my best friends"

Bommai to head BJP poll panel; Karandlaje too gets meaty role

Somanna, Narayanagowda not included in any committee

Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai examines a machine after inaugurating UHT milk packing unit in Haveri on Friday

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai has been appointed chairman of the BJP's Election Campaign Committee, while Union Minister Shobha Karandlaje has been made convenor of the Election Management Committee. With this, BJP has given key responsibilities to leaders from the two dominant communities, Lingayats and Vokkaligas.

Former chief minister BS Yediyurappa and BJP state president Nalin Kumar Kateel have been made members of the Election Campaign Committee. It has 25 members, three former chief ministers -- Yediyurappa, Jagadish Shettar and DV Sadananda Gowda, also nine ministers from Bommai's cabinet -- B Sriramulu, Dr CN Ashwath Narayan, Govind Karjol, R Ashoka, Shashikala Jolle, CC Patil, Dr K Sudhakar, ST Somashekar and Prabhu Chavan.

Interestingly, former ministers KS Eshwarappa and Ramesh Jarkiholi, who were removed from the cabinet, are in the committee. But ministers V Somanna and KC Narayanagowda are not. It is not clear if this is due to reports of them quitting the party and joining Congress. Both leaders have, however, denied such reports.

The committee also has Aravind Limbavali, Srinivas Prasad, CT Ravi, PC Mohan and Chalavadi Narayanaswamy as members. State party vice-president BY Vijayendra has also been included in the committee. It has two Union ministers -- Pralhad Joshi and Karandlaje. Karandlaje has been included in both the committees and she is expected to play a bigger role in the coming Assembly polls. Limbavali and Chalavadi Narayanaswamy are also in both the committees. Narayanswamy is the president of BJP SC Morcha and Limbavali is a former minister and an MLA.

The BJP Election Management Committee includes BJP state vice-president Tejaswini Ananth Kumar and BJP Mahila Morcha state president Geetha Vivekananda. Other members are Union Minister Bhagawanth Khuba, state minister Kota Srinivas Poojary, MLC N Ravikumar, former MLC Ashwathnarayan, BJP state vice-president Nirmal Surana and others. With these two panels, BJP has attempted to include influential leaders from major castes and also different regions. BJP National general secretary BL Santhosh's name is not in any committee. Recently, Yediyurappa had said the party will fight the polls under Bommai's leadership.

Annamalai joins Nadda in Shivajinagar, flays Cong over graft

Bengaluru: BJP president JP Nadda held an hour-long roadshow in Shivajinagar on Friday evening as part of BJP's Vijay Sankalp Yatra, where he was joined by Tamil Nadu BJP chief K Annamalai. Highlighting Prime Minister Narendra Modi's welfare programmes and the benefits of double-engine government to Karnataka, he said, "When Siddaramaiah was the chief minister, he had made the state his party's ATM. They would loot people's money and transfer it to their party's bosses in New Delhi. Do you want this kind of government?" he said. The prime minister is scheduled to inaugurate Bengaluru-Mysuru expressway on Sunday, which will reduce travel time by half between both cities. Annamalai dazzled the gathering as he began speaking in Tamil as the roadshow was held in the area dominated by Tamilians. "The central government has a thumping majority, but in Karnataka, give us the full mandate. This time, BJP should get 150 seats to form the government on its own," he pleaded.

Party tickets will be distributed based on internal surveys conducted by the party and the party's position in respective constituencies. No example of giving the tickets to all the sitting MLAs.

Won't contest if Athani MLA not given ticket, says Jarkiholi

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Vijayapura

FORMER minister Ramesh Jarkiholi has kicked up another controversy on Friday by warning BJP that he would not contest from Gokak constituency if MLA Mahesh Kumathalli is not given a ticket from Athani.

"Let me make it clear that if the party gives a ticket to Kumatalli, who is my friend, only then, I will contest from Gokak," he started, before participating in the Vijay Sankalp Yatra, and displayed his close bond with Kumathalli.

Asked if he was upset that the party has not reinducted him into the cabinet, he said, "I had quit Congress while I was a minister."

"I had joined BJP not for any ministry, but because of its ideology," he explained.

Jarkiholi resigned as a minister after a video of him went viral, putting the BJP in an embarrassing situation.

However, he refused to comment on speculation that minister KC Narayana Gowda is thinking of joining Congress, and said he has only heard about it in the media.

"I will ask him not to join Congress, which is a sinking ship. He should not commit that mistake," he said, and assured that he will try to ensure that over 13 MLAs from Belagavi district are elected this time.

MY TAKE

THE POLL & THE THREAT OF A QUIVER FULL OF NARRATIVES

NIRAD MUDUR
Deputy Resident Editor, Karnataka
niradgmudur@newindianexpress.com

SOON, Karnataka will be entering the season wherein citizens will be appealed to, urged, reasoned with and cajoled into casting their votes to perform that one significant duty as a citizen. Political parties will woo them like there is no tomorrow. They will push them into believing that their party's ideology is best suited for their happiness, well-being and security … physical, social and financial.

While mere casting a vote is a mechanical movement for the voter, what goes on in the voter's mind is a reaction to a mix of various narratives at play. These narratives that are floated by the political parties are the ones that play a pivotal role in the outcome of the polls. They shape the outcome of the voter's final decision on who to vote for, and why.

For all you know, the voter most likely made up that decision long before casting the vote. In most cases, that is the case. Very few wake up on the day of voting, have a steaming cup of tea or coffee, and then impulsively decide who to vote for, or to go for "None Of The Above" (NOTA).

What may seem unfair is that these narratives are collectively — and often conspiratorially — created by political elements to put their rivals down to influence the highly malleable and impressionable mind of the voter. And wherever there is a semblance of conspiracy, there is every chance of a narrative being fake or modified to suit specific political objectives. The voters consume such narratives floated by the political elements and their intellectual props.

Voter behaviour is basic human behaviour. They will believe in a particular narrative if it suits them, and will vehemently oppose it if it doesn't

Politics is largely psychology at play. Political scientists know it. Seasoned politicians know it, too. Political narratives to sway certain sections of voters to their line of thought is a credible tool in the hands of politicians. Creating narratives helps them build and shape perspectives among sections of the electorate. It helps them alter relationships among various groups — communal or otherwise — as well as among individuals.

But by their very nature, political narratives have the potential to be transformed into facts from what may not be factual, and that becomes a part of the public discourse, repeatedly churned out in speeches at political rallies. "Political narrative is impactful in its ability to elicit pathos, allowing the narrative to be influential through the value it provides rather than the truth that is told," according to American Journal of Cultural Sociology.

Voter behaviour is basic human behaviour. They will believe in a particular narrative if it suits them, and will vehemently oppose it if it doesn't. This is the basis of major political debates on issues that are felt to be the determining factors in a poll.

On an extreme end is violence resorted to for creating narratives. Which is why cases of lynching, communal and sectarian riots and arson tend to go up as the polls come closer. Some political party or the other is directly or indirectly at work in instigating these to sow seeds for a fresh narrative or consolidate upon an existing one. It's like lighting the fuse of a serial firecracker and stepping aside to enjoy its results.

Voter impressions are hard to shake. Once formed, they are difficult to undo despite the best efforts. When that happens, the narrative/s have played their part "successfully". But let it not be forgotten that the voter's mind is made up based on half-truths that construct the narratives … unless mere looks or choice of dressing styles of a candidate plays the role to influence the voter to vote for that particular poll contestant.

Democracy, unfortunately, is more complex than that. People want to know, and politicians will leave no stones unturned to meet that demand — even by influencing them with half-truths.

Urban voters, youth must be motivated: CEC

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

Chief Election Commissioner Rajiv Kumar expressed concern over urban voters' apathy towards voting.

After launching an Election Hackathon - "ELECTHON 2023" in Bengaluru on Friday, he said a major challenge before the commission is general apathy, mainly among young and urban voters. "It has become extremely crucial to understand the reasons, perceptions, beliefs, motivations, barriers, challenges, experiences, contexts and the contours that shape their decision to not cast their vote. Can we motivate these non-voters to realise their power, believe in that power and energise them to take the toll that their one vote can make a huge difference? It's a collective effort," he said.

He said the election day is considered a holiday, rather than celebrating it as the biggest festival of democracy. Kumar and Election Commissioners Anup Chandra Pandey and Arun Goel participated in the VoteFest 2023, organised by the CEO, Karnataka, along with the BBMP to address urban and youth apathy, spread awareness and motivate the youth to cast their vote.

Some elderly voters were felicitated and a few young voters were symbolically presented with new voter ID Cards.

Earlier in the day, they met district election officers on pre-election preparations.

Sumalatha backs BJP, says development her only aim

K SHIVA KUMAR @Mysuru

PUTTING an end to speculation, Mandya independent MP Sumalatha Ambareesh announced her support for Prime Minister Narendra Modi and BJP, which comes as a big boost to the saffron camp which is trying to gain traction in the Vokkaliga bastion.

Her announcement comes ahead of Modi's inauguration of the Bengaluru-Mysuru Expressway on March 12.

If she decides to enter state politics, she will have an opportunity to bargain tough with BJP to help her loyalists. On the other hand, she is keeping her options open to bring her son Abhishek into the political arena.

BJP has much reason to be exalted, as her support base would inject new vigour into the party, and neutralise the damage caused by BJP Minister KC Narayanagowda, who is likely to join Congress.

On her decision to support Modi and BJP, Sumalatha said it is to ensure development in Mandya district and not for any personal agenda. She recalled that Modi had paid rich tributes to her late husband Ambareesh during his campaign in Mysuru. "If I had a personal agenda, I would have joined the party within a month of being elected as an independent MP," she claimed.

Taking credit

Sumalatha took credit for commissioning of Mysugar factory, Pandavapura sugar factory, and Mandya railway station, but also thanked former chief minister BS Yediyurappa and Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai for their support.

She also listed releasing grants under the Jal Jeevan Mission, Ayushman Bharat, Kisan Samman, and various other projects, while referring to her participation in strengthening the Pocso Act.

She claimed that she was instrumental in banning illegal mining in and around the KRS Dam and Baby Betta region. Launching a veiled attack on JDS, she questioned the party's contribution, which claims to have a stronghold on Mandya district.

'Cong betrayed me'

Asked if her decision would tantamount to betraying Congress and Raitha Sangha, she pointed out that the Grand Old Party had betrayed her when they unceremoniously removed her late husband from the cabinet.

She recalled that archrivals -- JDS senior leader HD Kumaraswamy and KPCC president DK Shivakumar -- had joined hands to defeat her in the Lok Sabha elections. She appealed to Congress workers to support her on her path to developing Mandya district, and put an end to "adjustment politics" with JDS.

She admitted that though she has no plans of plunging into state politics, there is pressure from her supporters.

She said she has not joined BJP due to constitutional compulsions. As an independent member, she had a choice to join a party within six months of being elected.

She said her husband would have supported her decision as he was a staunch supporter of former prime minister Atal Bihar Vajpayee.

SIDDU, DKS DIDN'T GIVE ME A FREE HAND: HDK

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Belur

FORMER CM HD Kumaraswamy on Friday alleged that while he was heading the Congress-JDS coalition government, CLP leader Siddaramaiah and KPCC president DK Shivakumar barred him from holding a joint legislature meeting to ensure coordination among legislators.

"The leaders also did not give me a free hand to take any decision in the interest of farmers and the poor. A section of Congress leaders never wanted any coordination between JDS and Congress ministers. Despite all obstacles, I waived off Rs 25 crore farm loan. But they would not have allowed it, if I had discussed the matter with them," he alleged.

"Shivakumar should explain his contributions to Hassan district. He has no moral right to seek votes," he said.

Objecting to Congress' claim that Deve Gowda became prime minister with their support, he said, "Left parties helped Deve Gowda become the PM." On the Hassan ticket imbroglio, he said a candidate will be finalised after taking local leaders and workers into confidence, and reiterated that the ticket will be given to a party worker.

Scheme aims to provide jobs to youth

UNDER this scheme, the department will provide Rs 10,000 cash and Rs 5 lakh loan, including Rs 1 lakh subsidy. According to Sports and Youth Services Minister K C Narayanagowda, five lakh youths will get jobs.

"We are focussing on youth empowerment through this scheme. In the coming days, we are aiming at forming 28,000 self-help groups across the state," he said.

Sources in the department said more than 60 per cent of Karnataka's population is in rural areas. Youngsters constitute a major chunk of the population. They tend to move to urban areas in search of jobs. "This scheme aims to provide them jobs at their respective places, thus making them to stay in their villages. The government is aiming to target five lakh youths, which means, we are indirectly reaching out to five lakh families," sources added.

IO recommends further probe into Prashanth's transactions

YATHIRAJU @Bengaluru

SUSPECTING that BWSSB Chief Accountant Prashanth Kumar MV aka Prashanth Madal, his private accountant S Sundar and Siddesh were involved in more illegal money transactions to allot tenders to private firms from Karnataka Soaps and Detergents Ltd (KSDL), the Lokayukta investigating officer recommended a comprehensive probe into such illegal transactions and also benami properties allegedly owned by Prashanth, son of BJP Channagiri MLA and former KSDL chairman Madal Virupakshappa.

In a report submitted to SP-II, Bengaluru Urban Division, Lokayukta, the IO, BG Kumaraswamy, stated it is necessary to conduct a thorough probe into illegal money transactions between parties and also into benami properties owned by Prashanth in the name of Siddesh.

The IO explained that Siddesh (28) was sitting in the hall of a private office of Prashanth on Crescent Road in Bengaluru when he was trapped while accepting a bribe of ₹40 lakh on March 2. Siddesh said he is an agriculturist from Bheemasandra village of Chitradurga district and a relative of Prashanth. As he did not give a proper reply, his bag was checked and ₹60 lakh in cash was found. He said it was to be given to Prashanth, but did not divulge its source. The report said the money was a bribe from a company. The IO also stated that Prashanth was caught in a conspiracy hatched with Surendra and Siddesh and conniving with KSDL officials to favour Karnataka Aromas in getting the tender purchase order through his influence. Based on the IO's recommendation, another FIR was registered against Prashanth, Sundar and Siddesh on March 8.

Meanwhile, Lokayukta police questioned Virupakshappa for the second consecutive day on Friday after he was asked to appear with documents on Thursday.

SCARCITY HITS CITY'S SKIN BANK

NAMRATA SINDWANI
@Bengaluru

KARNATAKA'S first skin bank at the government-run Victoria Hospital in the city is facing an acute shortage of skin. It is now left with 2000 sq cm of skin sufficient to treat only one patient with severe burns, according to doctors.

The skin bank has received only 182 donations since its inception in 2016. Doctors at the burns ward attribute the shortage to the increasing number of burn cases and poor response from donors.

Dr Ramesh KT, Head of the Department of Plastic Surgery and Burns, said the skin harvested will be sent immediately to the needy patients. Doctors have to often choose patients, depending on severity of the case, for utilising the harvested skin.

The burns ward receives around 200 cases monthly, varying from mild to severe. Burns due to LPG cylinder blast, electrical gadgets catching fire, and suicidal burns are the most common cases, Dr Ramesh said.

Nagaraj BN, Nursing Officer (Skin), Victoria Hospital, said the number of people volunteering for skin donation is less. Moreover, there is a misconception that a person's body will be disfigured if he donates skin.

Usually, the skin is taken from the thigh and back of a person. The skin should be harvested within six hours of the death of the person. It is a simple process which is completed within 30 minutes, he said.

Dr Ramesh stressed the need for raising awareness on skin donation.

Take the flu vaccine and stay safe: Sudhakar

"THE patient's samples were sent for tests post his death and on March 3, HIMS confirmed that the cause was H3N2 virus. However, to rule out other doubts, the samples were sent for genome sequencing and the reports came on March 10, confirming that the death was because of H3N2," Dr Shivaswamy said.

Health officers have surveyed all primary and secondary contacts of the deceased, including his family (wife and two children). However, so far, nobody tested negative for the virus. The health officials have plans to continue their surveillance in the area for the next 14 days to ensure that positive cases are identified on time.

Health Minister Dr K Sudhakar said, "There is no need to panic. This is a rare case and the patient also had comorbidities and died because of old age-related issues. People, however, must be cautious." He advised people to take the flu vaccine. D Randeep, Commissioner, Health and Family Welfare Department, said from January 2023 to March 10, 26 cases of Influenza A were reported. Of them, 16 were H3N2.

Godown goes up in flames, workers escape

Bengaluru: Eight fire tenders were pressed into action to put out a major fire that broke out at a godown near Pramod Layout in Nayandahalli, around 11.45pm Thursday. The fire at the godown, where plastic bottles and other scrap items were stored, spread over a three-acre parcel of land that was completely gutted. Along with the plastic items, at least four goods vehicles were also destroyed. The incident came to light after a few BBMP marshals, on spotting flames, cautioned people working in the godown. Gas cylinders that were inside the godown were shifted to a safer location. ENS

Few places to rest: Drivers, conductors sleep in bus

AKNISREE KARTHIK
@Bengaluru

FOLLOWING the death of BMTC conductor Muthaiah, who was charred while asleep in a bus which caught fire, transport unions have slammed the bus corporation and alleged that it never bothered to provide resting facilities. Further, they alleged that as per oral instructions from superiors at the transport corporation, both the driver and conductor must sleep only in the bus, or they would be charge-sheeted. Even if there is a resting facility nearby, the driver and conductor must sleep on the bus, they alleged.

"During inspection, if BMTC superiors find out that the driver and conductor are not on the bus at night, they file a chargesheet against them and slap fines as per their whims and fancies," said Anand, joint secretary, Karnataka Rajya Raste Sarige Naukarara Okkutta.

He said that drivers and conductors are held solely responsible for safety when they take the bus from the depot after signing the duty chart.

"Any theft of diesel, batteries and other parts of the bus falls on the employees' heads. Superiors suspend and can even dismiss employees for these reasons," Anand alleged. It is the duty of BMTC to provide a safe parking spot along with resting facilities for employees, while allotting routes, he said.

A BMTC driver, requesting anonymity, said, "There is no rule on where the bus has to be parked on night-out duty. We have to find a safe place and park it, and sleep in it without any basic facilities. In many places, there is no facility even to attend nature's calls."

Bengaluru Bus Prayanikara Vedike, a commuters' rights forum, wrote to Transport Minister B Sriramulu and the principal secretary of the transport department NV Prasad, questioning whether there is a rule that mandates employees to sleep on the bus to safeguard it. It demanded an inquiry into their working conditions.

BMTC MD Sathyavathi was not available for comment. However, a statement from BMTC maintained that a survey of resting spots would be taken up and suitable action taken to avoid any such mishaps in future.

Kerala High Court forms panel to visit dumpyard

A firefighter at Brahmapuram waste treatment plant near Kochi | TP SOORAJ

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Kochi

THE Kerala High Court on Friday observed that the present state of affairs in the Brahmapuram waste dumpyard is a product of contributory negligence. None is an exception. It is only a matter of percentages of contribution by one and all. Kochi which should have been smart now becomes an unclean city. "Now our effort is to make Kochi a clean city. That's possible with proper cooperation," said the bench. The facilities at Brahmapuram have gone out of gear.

The court also formed a committee and directed it to visit the dumpyard within 24 hours. It also directed the committee to find out the functionality of the site which was established and operated to cater to the needs of the city. The committee consists of the Chief Engineer, Local Self Government Department, Director, Solid Waste Management Swachhatha Mission, the District Collector, Ernakulam, Joint Chief Environmental Engineer, Regional Office, Kerala State Pollution Control Board, Ernakulam, Babu Abdul Khader, Secretary, Kochi Corporation and Secretary, District Legal Services Authority, Member-Convenor.

The court also directed the government to explore viable, alternative long-lasting solutions for the handling, handover, transport, and safe disposal of solid waste generated from Kochi city. Expressing concern over toxic smoke still emanating from the dump yard, the court said any other mechanism that is available to prevent the dispersion of smoke in unexpected directions is explored and the impact from smoke to the extent possible by the use of technology is resorted to and controlled.

Forest department, IAF discuss fire management

BOSKY KHANNA @ Bengaluru

TO be better prepared in controlling a forest fire, officials from the Karnataka state forest department have been holding a series of meetings with authorities from the Indian Air Force and fire and emergency department. Ground staffers at the prime tiger reserves -- Bandipur and Nagarahole -- are discussing how to restrict tourists in the coming days, to ensure that no untoward incidents are reported.

"It is not uncommon for tourists to throw garbage, cigarette butts or other items out of their vehicles while passing through the reserves. To ensure there are no cases of fire due to such incidents, we are keen to restrict the number of tourists. Special patrol vehicles will also be deployed on these stretches to keep a watch on vehicles passing by," a senior forest department official told The New Indian Express.

According to forest staffers, since January (onset of the fire season), three meetings were held with the Indian Air Force and fire and emergency authorities. "More are scheduled to ensure better coordination. If need be, practice drills will also be held," said another forest official.

"We don't want to be caught in a sudden tight situation, where we are helpless. We don't want a repeat of the 2017 forest fire incident in Bandipur Tiger Reserve. One staffer had died then. Recently in Hassan, a staffer died and three others sustained burns while trying to douse a forest fire. In Tumakuru, a young girl died due to burns," the official said.

Conservationists and officials said with fodder on the ground acting as fuel, miscreants are setting forests on fire. "It is well-known that forest fires in India are man-made, so patrolling is important, besides restricting people, fairs and pilgrimages inside forests," said a conservationist.

Activists have also condemned the idea of using drones and helicopters inside forests. Being alert on the ground is important, they said, and demanded that officials catch the culprits and bring them to book to set an example. "We are holding regular meetings to ensure that all measures are in place, in case of emergency. With the help of the air force, a helicopter is also stationed at Mysuru. All measures will be taken to ensure the ground situation is under control," said Principal Chief Conservator of Forests, Wildlife, Rajiv Ranjan.

RESCUED TIGER CUBS UNDER OBSERVATION IN TIRUPATI ZOO

SRI KRISHNA KUMMARA @Tirupati

THE four tiger cubs abandoned by their mother at the Atmakur forest division in the Nagarjunasagar-Srisailam Tiger Reserve were shifted to SV Zoological Park near Tirupati on Friday after multiple attempts by the forest department to reunite them with the tigress didn't materialise for five days in a row.

The tiger cubs were handed over to the zoological park authorities at around 7 am. Speaking to The New Indian Express, SV Zoo veterinarian Dr Sathyaprakash Arun, who has been supervising the health condition of the cubs, said, "The primary clinical examination conducted by the zoo doctors found that the 50-day-old cubs were on the weaker side. This could be because they got separated from the tigress."

"We need to keep the cubs under observation for another two days to get a better picture of their health condition," he added. Sharing the details on the diet being provided to the cubs, the veterinarian said, "The tiger cubs are being fed milk and boiled meat every four hours as prescribed by the zoo health advisory committee."

He elaborated that the cubs have been avoiding consuming milk due to sickness, which they developed ever since they got separated from their mother.

The doctor further added, "A team of veterinarian from SV Veterinary University, comprising professors from 10 departments, have arrived to observe the medical condition of the cubs." He also said the cubs need to be under medical supervision for at least six months until they are able to feed by themselves.

It is learnt that the zoo authorities are mulling to shift the cubs to a specially erected enclosure after the health condition of the cubs improves.

AGENCY RAIDS GLUE TO BRING OPPOSITION PARTIES TOGETHER

Prime Minister Narendra Modi had made a key promise when entering the South Block: "Na Khaunga, Na Khane Doonga". It meant he would neither be corrupt nor allow anybody to be corrupt. The PM, who had stormed into office in 2014 riding the wave of public anger against the alleged 2G and coal scams, promised a clean administration. To his credit, barring some unproven allegations, his government has remained unscathed on this count to date. Given the BJP's wide administrative network at the Centre and in many states, and opposition allegations of the party's public functionaries escaping scrutiny, the latter have managed to largely remain untarnished. But the frequent raids by enforcement agencies on opposition leaders have upped the ante against the Centre. By some accounts, the Enforcement Directorate raids have seen a four-fold increase since 2014 and nearly the same applies to the raids and searches of the CBI and income tax department.

Opposition parties, divided on various issues, are united on what they have termed as the 'misuse' of the enforcement agencies. Nine opposition parties wrote a joint letter to the prime minister accusing the government of pursuing 'vendetta politics through misuse of central agencies'. The letter was written immediately after the then Delhi deputy chief minister Manish Sisodia was arrested in the Delhi liquor scam. Bharat Rashtra Samithi MLC K Kavitha, daughter of Telangana Chief Minister K Chandrashekar Rao, has also been named in the liquor scam. The fact that the largest opposition party, Congress, did not sign the joint letter to the PM led to a spat between Kavitha and Congress leader Jairam Ramesh. The verbal duel between the two leaders notwithstanding, their parties are on the same page on the issue of raids by central agencies on opposition leaders. Congress president Mallikarjun Kharge had recently lamented that 95% of raids conducted by the central agencies have been on members of opposition parties.

The opposition parties are divided over various issues. The AAP, TMC and BRS are bitterly opposed to the Congress, both over alliances in the states and on the question of leading the opposition in the 2024 election. Two clear blocks of opposition parties are emerging before the next general elections. One includes BRS, AAP and TMC, and the other has Congress, DMK and Left parties. Despite differences within the opposition ranks, the actions of central agencies are emerging as a potential glue to bind the entire opposition together and bring them on a single platform.

RBI IN A SPOT DUE TO PRICE RISE, FED HEAT

Indian markets suffered yet another freaky Friday. As global markets tumbled following the latest US jobs data preceded by Federal Reserve (Fed) chairman Jerome Powell's hawkish remarks, both Sensex and Nifty dutifully fell 900 and 250 points, respectively. Although markets have priced in another 50 bps rate hikes (by Fed) and 25 bps (by RBI), analysts expect policy-induced volatility to dictate market mood for some time. That's because, of late, central banks' forward guidance seems like a person caught between two extreme moods. Take the US Federal Reserve. From considering a pause in rate hikes just a couple of months ago, Powell did a 180, insisting that rates need to be higher for longer and faster. Pursuing the Fed's terminal policy rate, which influences all other global central banks' policy moves, seems never-ending, with the peak rate expectations now touching 5.5% from the current Fed funds rate of 4.5–4.75%.

As it is, global monetary policy actions are unprecedented in size and speed. The likelihood of further rate hikes by major central banks puts pressure on emerging markets, including the RBI, which is already distracted due to the high January inflation print. A 25-bps rate hike in April will take the repo rate to 6.75%. If so, the policy rate differential between India and the US will likely be about the trendline of 100 bps at their respective cycle peaks. But the concerns of RBI's monetary policy committee's two external members, who voted against further rate hikes citing growth concerns, need attention.

Indian exports are showing signs of strain, private investment revival is yet to come out of its decade-long slumber, and slowdown concerns persist. Besides, a widening current account deficit is another major challenge. The RBI's prowess in managing the current account volatility will be tested once again next fiscal. Separately, the dreaded inverted yield curve made a comeback, indicating liquidity tightness. On Wednesday, the yield on one-year government bonds rose above the benchmark 10-year bonds for the first time in about eight years. According to IDFC, the one-year treasury bill rate shot up 400 bps since the RBI's rate hike cycle began last May and may leave its impact. All these put RBI back in a tight spot, and it must avoid policy errors.

QUICK TAKE

FREE ULTRASOUND FOR MOMS-TO-BE

Ultrasound tests will be free for all pregnant women in Uttar Pradesh. A public-private partnership also ensures women can access the facility in private clinics if unavailable at community health centres. But this comes with a load of precautions. There must be a way to ensure that the test is not misused to know the sex of the foetus—it is tough to monitor the clinics in distant areas. Health agencies must advise women to plan for the tests best taken around the 12th and 20th weeks. Private clinics must be accountable for hiring trained radiologists, especially in remote areas.

PUSH FOR EQUITABLE DEBT MANAGEMENT WHILE LEADING G20

BISWAJIT DHAR
Professor, Centre for Economic Studies and Planning, School of Social Sciences, JNU

SOUMYADIP SINHA

When India took over the G20 presidency on December 1, 2022, the global community found itself grappling with uncertainties not seen since the end of WWII. Back then, major powers recognised that an institutional vacuum was caused by a dysfunctional global order resulting in deep fissures among countries, which needed to be fixed for a peaceful post-war transition. This led to the formation of an array of multilateral institutions for enabling countries to arrive at negotiated solutions to build a better future for the succeeding generations.

Eight decades later, the post-war multilateral institutions are reduced to empty shells as the spirit of "living together in peace" for the "economic and social advancement of all", as articulated in the UN Charter, has all but dissipated. Most vexed problems facing humanity have remained unaddressed as consensus among the countries has been elusive. Therefore, when Prime Minister Narendra Modi underlined that the Indian presidency's priorities are "healing our 'One Earth', creating harmony within our 'One Family' and giving hope for our 'One Future'", realising these priorities seems challenging. Further, the PM's call to the G20 to "work together to shape a new paradigm—of human-centric globalisation" appears daunting.

Protagonists of globalisation argued that the process would usher in a more inclusive economic order. However, more than three decades since globalisation came into vogue, disparities between countries remain considerable. For instance, global trade in goods has expanded four-fold since the turn of the millennium, but the situation of the poorest countries remains unchanged. In 1999, the then 46 least developed countries (LDCs), whose data are available, had a 0.6% share in goods trade, and more than two decades later, in 2021, the share of these countries was just 1.1%. With their inability to increase their export earnings, it is hardly surprising that 28 of these 46 LDCs are Heavily Indebted Poor Countries (HIPCs), which, according to the World Bank, have unmanageable or unsustainable debt burdens.

In 2020, the G20 took an important initiative to address the "significant debt vulnerabilities and deteriorating outlook in many low-income countries" that had suffered after the Covid-induced economic crisis. The finance ministers and central bank governors of the grouping decided to go beyond the World Bank's Debt Service Suspension Initiative (DSSI) initiated earlier in the year, under which bilateral official creditors had agreed to temporarily suspend debt service payments from the 73 most vulnerable countries, subject to requests being made by the debtors. The G20 countries agreed to go further for dealing with the increasingly vexed problem of rising developing country debt by adopting the 'Common Framework for Debt Treatments beyond the DSSI'.

But the 'Common Framework' has three major weaknesses that have to be urgently fixed. First, it considers only the debt owed by severely indebted countries to "bilateral official creditors", implying that the debt owed to private creditors and multilateral financial institutions are excluded from this G20 "debt relief" initiative. This has rendered the Framework largely ineffective since at the end of 2019, bilateral official creditors accounted for 25% of the total outstanding external debt stocks of developing countries, which had declined to 21% by 2021. The vacuousness of the initiative was exposed further when 30 of the 73 eligible countries decided not to join the initiative.

A second major flaw is that it targets only low-income countries, ignoring the significant external debt liabilities that several middle-income countries, especially Sri Lanka and Pakistan, are burdened with. And finally, the rationale of the Framework is to bring to the table the "new donors" from the developing world, especially China and India, alongside the traditional "Paris Club" donors. Interestingly, the "Paris Club" donors had drastically reduced their bilateral aid over the past two decades, preferring to channelise their funds through private sector lenders and multilateral institutions instead.

It is beyond doubt that the Framework is aimed at protecting the interests of global capital while the indebted countries remain condemned to bear the burden of debt. Importantly, PM Modi had flagged the threat of unsustainable debt facing some developing nations in his message before the recent G20 finance ministers and central bank governors. Therefore, India needs to pull its political weight to alter the rules of what is a grossly inequitable debt management strategy of the G20 countries.

Yet another critical area where the Indian presidency must play a critical role is to enhance the effectiveness of global responses to climate change, of which energy transitions have emerged as a key component. When India assumed the presidency, PM Modi had argued that energy transitions is one of the greatest challenges that the global community faces at this juncture, signalling that this issue would be one of the most important planks for G20 engagement under the Indian presidency.

It may be pointed out in this context that Indonesia, the G20 president in 2022, had identified two critical issues for accelerating energy transitions. While laying down the Bali Energy Transitions Roadmap through to 2030, Indonesia had highlighted the need for scaling up smart and clean energy technologies and advancing clean energy financing. With regard to scaling up smart and clean energy technologies, the Bali Roadmap underlined the imperative for global public and private funding of the development, demonstration and deployment of clean energy technologies, as also G20 engagement in global clean energy technology partnerships. Financing clean energy projects has long been a contentious issue, and the Bali Roadmap called upon developed countries to provide enhanced support—including through financial resources to assist developing countries—in continuation of their existing obligations under the UNFCCC.

Getting the advanced countries to agree on concrete steps to provide necessary financial resources and access to relevant technologies is a daunting ask. However, if the Indian presidency can extract an honest set of commitments from the advanced countries, the energy transitions agenda can make rapid progress.

INFORMAL SECTOR MSMEs LOSING OUT, NEED TO BE IN POLICY NET

SANTOSH MEHROTRA

The micro, small, and medium enterprises (MSMEs) sector contributes nearly 45% of the country's industrial output and 40% of its exports. Despite their significance, the MSMEs' challenges have only increased for three reasons: demonetisation, followed by some degree of forced 'formalisation' (of sorts) due to GST, and then an ill-planned lockdown of unnecessarily harsh strictness, needlessly national in scope (March 2020, when there were <600 Covid cases).

First, how many MSMEs are really under the policy lens? Any declared schemes, subsidies or new policy initiatives like Emergency Credit Line Guarantee Scheme (ECLGS), Prime Minister's Employment Generation Programme (PMEGP), Credit Guarantee Fund Trust for Micro and Small Enterprises (CGTMSE), Micro and Small Enterprises Cluster Development Programme (MSE-CDP), Scheme of Fund for Regeneration of Traditional Industries (SFURTI), etc., are supposed to be for registered enterprises only. So, whenever the Centre talks about any new schemes or subsidies or new policy initiatives, it is merely supporting those registered enterprises.

So the next question is: how many MSMEs are registered? Registration of MSMEs is not very clear and simple to understand. After the implementation of the MSMED Act in 2006, the fourth MSME census was the first census for both registered and unregistered MSMEs in the country. As per this census in 2006–07, 1.55 million MSMEs were registered, i.e., 5.9% of the total 26.1 million MSMEs at that time. After this census, there has been no such census till now. Moreover, while the Centre conducted the seventh Economic Census in 2019 which could reveal the changes in the state of MSMEs between 2013 (sixth Economic Census) and 2019, that data has not been made public.

Though the National Sample Survey (NSS) conducts the Unincorporated Non-Agricultural Enterprises (Excluding Construction) sample survey every five years, the latest one is the 73rd round in 2015–16. As per the 73rd round NSS data, only 30% of the estimated 63 million MSMEs were registered, not a bad number for the informal sector. But it took decades to get to this. NSS collected this data on registration of MSMEs if an enterprise was registered under a list of acts/authorities. Surprisingly, this list did not include the MSMED Act, 2006, or MSME registration.

Furthermore, registration under these acts or authorities is a mere formality. It is also not synonymous with formalisation. These acts or bodies only register about 30% of the unorganised firms. Formalisation under Factory Act registration tends to assure social security benefits and other benefits to the firms. But registration under other acts or authorities is only a simple registration, and the firms remain the same as before such registration. The introduction to the seventh Economic Census states its objective is to create a Business Registry in the country. That objective still seems to be a far cry in the wilderness.

A significant portion of MSMEs are not in any books and they operate in the informal sector. So, they may not see the need to register

A major hurdle for MSMEs is the cumbersome process of registering with government agencies. Currently, MSMEs need to register under various schemes such as the Goods and Services Tax (GST), the Ministry of Corporate Affairs (MCA), and Udyam. This not only adds to the administrative burden of MSMEs but also creates confusion and duplication of effort.

In July 2020, the Centre launched the Udyam registration portal as a unified platform for MSMEs to register and obtain various certifications. But the number of MSMEs registered under the Udyam registration portal remains meagre, i.e., around 14.3 million. This is only a fraction of the 63 million MSMEs. But this data is also too old to use because the 73rd NSS survey round used the fifth Economic Census (2005) as the sampling frame. So, it is evident that we are not interested to know the current scenario of the MSMEs.

Every year, the MSME ministry's annual report also uses this estimated figure of 63 million, yet it has no plan to bring the remainder into the policy net. We don't even have any comprehensive regular database to monitor the second largest sector after agriculture. The low registrations raise five issues:

1) A significant portion of MSMEs in India are not in any books and they operate in the informal sector. So, they may not see the need to register. They may prefer to remain unregistered to avoid regulatory scrutiny, taxes, and compliance.

2) After registering, MSMEs have to comply with various statutory requirements, such as maintaining books of accounts, filing returns, and adhering to some laws/rules. This could be daunting for many small business owners who may not have the resources to hire professionals for compliance or go to some professional to do so.

3) Lack of incentives is another factor. While MSMEs in India are eligible for several incentives such as subsidies, tax benefits and credit guarantees, many small business owners may not find these significant enough to justify the registration process. The real question is if the benefits of registration exceed the cost of having to pay taxes that go beyond what owners might pay in personal income tax (if they pay the latter at all). Sometimes, the schemes or policies are immaterial for the MSMEs in distress after demonetisation, GST and Covid—a triple hit back to back.

4) Lack of awareness among MSMEs about the importance of registration and its benefits: they are often unaware of the schemes and benefits, leading to missed opportunities for growth and development.

5) The registration process should be straightforward as this could encourage many small business owners to register. At present, the process involves obtaining multiple registrations, such as for GST, Udyam and other state-specific registrations.

The Centre must also ensure that the registration benefits exceed costs. This includes easy access to credit, infrastructure support, and a simplified tax regime. There could be initiatives to create more favourable conditions for informal sector MSMEs to transition to the formal sector.

Plagued with corruption

Apropos of India can't push corruption dirt under carpet any longer (March 10). The writer should have been more forthright in identifying the fault lines inherent in Electoral Bonds than making a mild admission that EBs are "far from foolproof". One wonders how such "naming and shaming" measures are initiated only against those who raise a finger of suspicion against the Centre. Those who dissent are "anti-national".

BJP to focus on 160 LS seats it lost in 2019

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

BJP will not only try to hold the public rallies of the Prime Minister in the identified weak Lok Sabha seats, but also take out special campaigns riding on the PM's massive popularity

Senior party functionary

IN the run-up to general elections next year, the BJP is understood to have made a well-thought plan to hold public meetings of Prime Minister Narendra Modi in 160 Lok Sabha constituencies where the party narrowly lost in the last elections.

The party has identified 160 Lok Sabha seats across the country where BJP candidates lost after giving a tight fight in 2019 elections. A senior party functionary, preferring anonymity, said BJP will not only try to hold the public rallies of the Prime Minister in the identified weak Lok Sabha seats, but also take out special campaigns to enhance the winning prospects of BJP candidates riding on the PM's massive popularity.

As the target of winning 400 seats has been set, the BJP will hold PM's rally clubbing two or three constituencies. There will be a hitech arrangement to telecast the rally on bigger screens at different places.

The party has formed a three-member team of senior leaders-- Sunil Bansal, Tarun Chugh and Vinod Tawade-- to oversee the work related to the 160 constituencies. The BJP think-tank is learnt to have divided the 160 weak seats into different groups, including four constituencies in one cluster.

Sources also said that BJP national president JP Nadda and other senior leaders including party's principal strategist Amit Shah, will also be holding rallies in constituencies, in addition to the proposed PM rallies.

Meanwhile, sources said that most of the seats out of a total 160 LS seats are from southern states, including Kerala, Tamil Nadu and Telangana where the party will start of campaigns as part of mission south.

As part of chalked out strategy to win at least 90-110 out of 160 identified LS seats in 2024, the BJP is learnt to have decided to rope in the senior union ministers. The ministers will be visiting these constituencies and holding rallies.

Japanese PM to discuss bilateral, regional issues with Modi on India visit

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

JAPANESE Prime Minister Fumio Kishida will visit India on March 20 to hold bilateral talks with Prime Minister Narendra Modi. Both leaders will discuss regional and bilateral issues of mutual interest, according to the Ministry of External Affairs (MEA).

The MEA said the two leaders will discuss priorities for India's presidency of G20 and Japan's presidency of the G7. .

Fumio last visited India in March 2022. Japan holds this year's presidency of the Group of Seven (G7) major countries. Besides, both countries are partners in Quad.

"We, as this year's chairs (of the two groups), will exchange views to strengthen cooperation," Fumio said on Friday while addressing a meeting between the Japanese government and the ruling camp of the Liberal Democratic Party and Komeito.

"The Japanese and Indian leaders will discuss a range of issues, including for realising a free and open Indo-Pacific, Japanese Chief Cabinet Secretary Hirokazu Matsuno said on Friday. After their forthcoming meeting, the two leaders will meet again in May during the Quad Summit in Australia and Fumio will visit India in September for the G20 Summit.

The two leaders could meet a fourth time this year, if PM Modi attends the G7 Summit in Hiroshima in May this year.

Kishida's trip comes in the backdrop of his Foreign Minister Yoshimasa Hayashi's cancellation of a visit to the foreign ministerial meeting of the G-20 held last week.

Meanwhile, Australian PM Albanese is concluding his state visit to India. Boosting overall bilateral defence cooperation, especially in the maritime sphere, was a key takeaway of of the talks between Modi and his Australian counterpart Anthony Albanese. "The prime ministers agreed that, as a practical step, India and Australia may continue to explore conduct of aircraft deployments from each other's territories to build operational familiarity and enhance maritime domain awareness," a joint statement said.

FAKE NEWS: GOVT, YOUTUBE IN TALKS

PARVEZ SULTAN @ New Delhi

THE Centre has started working in tandem with YouTube, global online video sharing platform, to find out a permanent solution to block channels spreading fake news and broadcasting misleading content detrimental to communal harmony, having potential of fomenting public order and posing threat to India's foreign relations.

According to senior officials, the Government is looking for a way out based on artificial intelligence mechanisms to curb the menace. The information and broadcasting (I&B) ministry, about two weeks ago, blocked at least eight digital channels endorsing pro-khalistani sentiments.

The ministry has been holding dialogue with YouTube to work upon to develop a system and its vice president recently met the ministry officials.

"Dialogue has already been initiated with the social media platform. The blocking of channels should be automatically through an artificial intelligence mechanism because manual monitoring is cumbersome. Millions of videos are on the platform. How can we see them? It has to be through technology," said officials.

The ministry, on occasions, has been issuing directions to the popular social media intermediaries including Twitter and Facebook to block contents and digital channels airing against the anti-India agenda.

The crackdown by the government began in December 2021 when the ministry issued directions for blocking 20 YouTube Channels and two websites, operating from Pakistan under the provisions of IT rules for the first time. Officials, privy to the meeting, said that YouTube is taking the issue 'seriously' and compliance is 'much better'.

"The issue is language. Majority of content in India under scrutiny is in Hindi and regional languages rather than English. Their capability is limited in terms of Hindi. We have regular dialogue with them. But it is clear that they are serious and I would say that compliance is better. Now, it takes 48 hours to block the content after the order earlier it would take a month," said officials.

The ministry is also deliberating solutions that any content once blocked shouldn't appear on other platforms in different forms.

EXCISE SCAM ACCUSED WANTS TO RETRACT

AMIT MUKHERJEE @ New Delhi

Hyderabad-based businessman Arun Ramchandra Pillai, one of the key accused in the Delhi Excise scam, has moved an application on Friday before a local courtseeking to retract from the statements he submitted before the Enforcement Directorate (ED). Pillai moved the application before a special PMLA court at Rouse Avenue seeking to retract from a couple of statements he made last year when he appeared before the ED.The special court has issued notice to the ED to file a reply by March 13. Pillai was arrested and produced before the PMLA court on Tuesday as he was allegedly not cooperating with the agency. The court has remanded him in ED custody till March 13. The moves comes at a time when former Delhi deputy chief minister Manish Sisodia has been taken in ED remand and BRS leader K Kavitha, also the daughter of Telangana Chief Minister K Chandrasekhar Rao, has been summoned by ED for questioning on Saturday, March 11.

Sisodia in ED custody till March 17

JAISON WILSON @ New Delhi

A city court on Friday sent former Delhi deputy CM and Manish Sisodia to Enforcement Directorate (ED) custody till March 17, in the central agency's money laundering probe related to the multi-crore liquor policy scam.

The ED had arrested the Aam Aadmi Party leader on Thursday after questioning him in Tihar jail where he was lodged in a CBI case pertaining to alleged irregularities in framing and implementation of the excise policy. His bail application in the CBI case was to come up on Friday but special judge M K Nagpal adjourned the hearing to March 21.

During the course of hearing, the ED argued that it needs to interrogate Sisodia to get the complete modus operandi of the alleged scam and also needs to confront some key officials in this regard. Implicating Telangana Chief Minister K Chandrashekar Rao's daughter K Kavitha, ED submitted that AAP's communication in-charge Vijay Nair, who was coordinating the 'entire conspiracy', met her. There was a 'political understanding' between the AAP-led Delhi government and the south Indian political leader, it contended.

Indian women ahead of US in science enrolment

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi on Friday said the enrolment of girls in science, technology, engineering and maths in India is at 43% today, more than in countries like the US, UK and Germany.

"India can move forward only by raising the levels of respect of women and the sense of equality. I call upon all of you to move forward with the determination to remove every obstacle coming in the way of women," he said addressing a post-Budget webinar on 'Economic Empowerment of Women'.

Highlighting how women are leading from the front in all fields, including medical, sports, business, or politics, Modi said the number of girls studying up to high school and beyond has tripled in the last 9-10 years.

The results of efforts for women's empowerment are visible and we are feeling a revolutionary change in the social life of the country, the PM said.

"The reflection of how we can take the country forward with the help of half of the country's population and how we can increase the potential of women's power is visible in this Budget," the prime minister said, adding that in the last nine years, the country has moved with a vision of women-led development.

Pitching for unicorns in self-help groups for women, Modi said more than seven crore women have joined self-help groups over the last nine years, and their value creation can be understood by their capital requirement as these SHGs have taken loans worth Rs 6.25 lakh crore.

He said the daughters of the country can be seen in national security roles as well as entrepreneurs who take crucial decisions and risks.

Scientists warn farmers of pest attack on wheat crop

JITENDRA CHOUBEY @ New Delhi

A blend of unseasonal rain and soaring heat is posing a serious threat of pest attack on wheat crop in the North-West and North regions, including states of Punjab, Haryana and Uttar Pradesh.

Scientists have warned of increased possibility of pest attacks-- Brown Rust, Powdery Mildew and Aphids – in the coming weeks.

The government has issued an advisory after consultations with scientists in the Indian Meteorological Department (IMD), the Indian Institute of Wheat and Barley Research, Plants pathologists and state agriculture department officials on March 9.

In the first week of March, scientists at the Indian Institute of Wheat and Barley Research had stated that temperature was favourable for wheat crops in the growing regions, and there was a negligible chance of pest attacks, including Yellow Rust.

The situation, however, changed within a week. In its latest advisory, scientists have warned of pest attack, especially fungal diseases, which would possibly reduce the yield and quality of grains.

The current advisory is based on rising average weekly temperature. There is a difference in the average temperature of almost 1°C of the range of temperatures.

The rise in temperature and possible rain and hailstorms due to western disturbances will create a conducive condition for pests.

The Brown Rust infection in green leaf areas reduce the photosynthesis rate needed for grain fill and increase the transpiration rate to cause drought susceptibility.

Brown Rust causes a reduction in the weight of grain and also shrivels it, which affects the quality and quantity of grains.

"Mild infection of Brown Rust might reduce yield by 15 per cent, but severe infections can reduce yield by up to 40% in a field," said a scientist at Indian Institute of Wheat and Barley Research .

In its latest outlook, the United State Department of Agriculture has reduced India's wheat production by around 4 per cent.

Powdery mildew – a fungal leaf disease that reduces yield and grain quality – may attack crops in higher hills-- Jammu and Himachal Pradesh region.

Scientists also advised farmers to be watchful of Leaf Aphids (Chepa) – small sap-sucking insects. Its number should not be increased to a threshold level.

A private weather forecasting agency Skymet said that crop damage is expected due to unseasonal rains in the form of hailstorms or thunderstorms in the coming week.

"It is an urgent need to timely warn the farmers across the country against this natural phenomenon so that the essential crops can be saved fromdanger," said Mahesh Palawat, vice-president, Skymet, a pvt forecaster.

33% quota for women in Naga civic polls

In its first cabinet meet, Neiphiu Rio govt decides to hold elections after nearly two decades

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Guwahati

AFTER nearly two decades, Nagaland will hold civic bodies elections and with 33 per cent reservation of seats for women.

The Neiphiu Rio government made the decision in its first meeting on Thursday in deference to an order of the Supreme Court. It issued a direction last year to hold the elections to Urban Local Bodies (ULBs) by May this year.

Nagaland, whose cultural, traditional and religious practices, land and its resources are safeguarded under Article 371A, was exempted from the 73rd Amendment to the Constitution for the setting up of municipalities. But the 74th Amendment did not give that exemption on the grounds that the state's town administrations were not part of the customary practices.

In 2001, Nagaland enacted its Municipal Act and the first civic bodies elections were held in 2004 but without reservation. The government issued notification for the next civic bodies elections in 2012 but the same could not be held following objections from tribal bodies. They stood opposed to quota.

In September the same year, the Assembly had passed a resolution to exempt the state from the Constitution's Article 243T that deals with quota for women but revoked it in 2016.

The state government made an attempt to go to Urban Local Body polls with 33% reservation for women in 2017, but it backfired | PTI

In 2017, the state government made an attempt to go to polls with 33% reservation for women but it backfired. Protestors attacked and set ablaze government buildings in parts of the state. The powerful tribal organisations contested that quota for women was an infringement on the Naga customary laws, as enshrined in Article 371(A) of the Constitution that protects its traditional way of life.

In the wake of the violence, the then Chief Minister TR Zeliang quit and the government declared the poll process null and void. Later, some women organisations moved the High Court and then, they moved the Supreme Court.

The government paved the way for the polls by making certain amendments to the Municipal Act. During a consultative meeting last year, various organisations backed its move to hold the elections.

Women in the state are ecstatic that the state is finally going to civic bodies elections with quota.

Rosemary Dzuvichu, who is advisor to the Naga Mothers' Association, said women in Nagaland have not been in the decision-making bodies but time and people's mindset are changing.

"Thirty-three per cent reservation is a part of the Municipal Act. We are happy that we are going to have the elections. It will be a new beginning," Dzuvichu said.

In a notification, the government said the elections would be held to three municipal councils and 36 town councils on May 16.

The announcement of the polls comes just days after Hekani Jakhalu and Salhoutuonuo Kruse created history by becoming the state's first two women to get elected to the Assembly. Kruse was inducted into the ministry.

UP civic polls: 5-member backward class commission gets approval

State Energy and Urban Development Minister AK Sharma said that the report was submitted to CM Yogi Adityanath on Thursday night and it was taken up at the cabinet meeting on Friday. Sharma said that a provisional notification regarding local body elections was issued on December 5.

Smart schools' way to transform kids' lives: Shah hails NEP

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA @Ahmedabad

EXPLAINING the significance of the new education policy (NEP), Home Minister Amit Shah said that "smart school is not just a concept but a way to transform the lives of children. There will definitely be a qualitative change in the education of children through these schools".

"PM Narendra Modi has introduced the concept of smart schools in the new education policy, which aims to provide a platform to the talent in children at the primary education level itself, so that they can develop holistically," Shah said

Shah virtually inaugurated various development projects worth ₹154 crore in Ahmedabad, Gujarat, on Friday. He also spoke at an event co-hosted by the Ahmedabad Municipal Corporation (AMC) and the Ahmedabad Urban Development Authority (AUDA). He paid tribute to Shivaji, Savitribai Fule, and Jyotiba on this occasion.

Shah stated that "the day is significant in many ways because according to 'Hindu tithi', it is the birth anniversary of Chhatrapati Shivaji Maharaj, who established a new definition of self-respect in the country based on Swaraj, Swadharma, and Swabhasha."

Shah claimed that at the age of 15, Shivaji Maharaj built a Hindu empire with tenacity against the Mughal rulers. He added that it was also the death anniversary of Savitribai Phule, who prioritised women's education in order to empower them.

He said that the Gujarat double-engine government has resolved that no one should be homeless. "My (Lok Sabha) constituency of Gandhinagar was already developed before I became an MP there. However, the PM says that we have to do our best in every sector," the minister said, adding that all parliamentarians need to work for the development of their respective constituencies. A new flyover at Sanathal in Ahmedabad was inaugurated.

Safety concern: Hotels to house Pandit staff

FAYAZ WANI @Srinagar

WITH the PM Package Pandit employees returning to their duties in the Valley after nine months of strike, the government has decided to lodge them in hotels to ensure their security and 1,000 hotel rooms have been identified in Srinagar for their accommodation.

The employees, who were on strike since May 12 last year after killing of a Pandit employee Rahul Bhat by militants in central Kashmir, suspended their strike last week. Divisional Commissioner Kashmir Vijay Kumar Bidhuri has directed the officials to frame the criteria for allotment of accommodation to married and unmarried Pandit employees.

However, Ranjan Jotshi vice president All Migrant Displaced Employees Association Kashmir is not impressed saying the administration wants to provide them accommodation in hotels on a pattern of room sharing. "They must have separate rooms. How can families and couples live in a shared room?" he said.

Abdullah, who returned from Saudi Arabia, convened the APM at his Gupkar residence in Srinagar on Saturday at 3 pm. Barring BJP, all political parties in J&K have been invited for the APM, Abdullah said.

The APM, according to sources, besides discussing all key issues confronting J&K, will also discuss the ongoing anti-encroachment drive launched by government to retriev encroached state, grazing and Roshni land Act.

The job aspirants are protesting across J&K against the hiring of Aptech by J&K government to conduct recruitment process. Abdullah told reporters in Srinagar today that don't know how many parties will attend the APM.

Earlier, in August 2022, he had called an APM in Jammu to discuss the granting of voting rights to non-locals. The APM was attended by many political parties.

Farmer suicides up in Maha; 8 of them die daily over financial distress

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @Mumbai

SUICIDES by farmers are on the rise in Maharashtra: on average eight farmers take the extreme step per day across the state due to various reasons, including financial distress and falling crop prices.

According to data released by the state government, in the seven months of CM Eknath Shinde's government, 1,023 farmers have committed suicide while in the previous 2.5 years of Uddhav Thackeray government, 1,660 farmers ended their lives. In the Devendra Fadnavis government (2014-2019), 5,061 farmers met the tragic death. State finance minister Devendra Fadnavis has announced a slew of schemes for farmers such as giving ₹6,000 annually to each farmer under the Namo Shetkari Sanman Yojana where the Centre gives ₹6,000 per year.

Leader of Oppositions and senior NCP leader Ajit Pawar said the data revealed that such suicides have been rising in the Eknath Shinde government.

"We do not want to blame any individual, but it is the harsh reality that a large number of farmers are ending their lives during the Shinde government. The financial distress among the farmer is one of the major reasons," said Ajit Pawar.

Cotton, onion, and soybean growing farmers have not received fair prices of their crops this year, Pawar said.

"We have seen how onion farmers are throwing away the crop on the roads while some of them are burning it down in their farms. The farmers are unable to recover their input costs as well," said Pawar.

He said per day around eight farmers are committing suicide in the state. "In the Marathwada region, in last two months, 62 farmers have committed suicide while in Beed district alone; 22 farmers ended their lives, he added.

NCP group leader Jayant Patil said the present government was insensitive towards farmers. "While buying fertilizers on a government site, the farmer's caste is asked. It is humiliating," Patil said.

Ex-education min to be appointed Cong prez

After Senior Congress leader Mallikarjun Kharge took rein of All India Congress Party (AICC), the speculation in political circles is that the former education minister and Congress MLA Varsha Gaikwad, who belongs to SC community, is likely to be appointed as Mumbai Congress president in place of the incumbent president Bhai Jagtap. If this happens, then another Dalit Congress MLA Nitin Raut who was eyeing the Maharashtra Congress president position, may not find the place. Two Dalits cannot be appointed as head of party units. Either the OBC or Maratha face will be given the responsibility in state.

Maharashtra turning digital slowly

Deputy chief minister Devendra Fadnavis, who is also the finance minister, used the tablet to read the state annual budget 2022-23. This time, reporters and MLA/MLCs were given PDFs of the Economic Survey report 2022-23 and the state annual budget. nlike other years, pen drives was hardly shared with the reporters. Earlier, along with the physical copy of the survey reports and budget, the pen drives or CDs were also shared with the reporters. However, this year, this duel practice has been stopped and only PDFs were given as part of e-governance initiative.

House resolution seeks tough action against BBC docu

THE Gujarat Assembly on Friday passed a resolution urging the Centre to act against BBC for tarnishing the image and popularity of Prime Minister Narendra Modi with its documentary on the 2002 riots in the state.

The two-part series by the BBC titled 'India: The Modi Question' misrepresents the events of 2002 in a malicious and low-level attempt to tarnish India's image globally, BJP MLA Vipul Patel said in the House while moving the resolution.

The documentary claims to have probed certain aspects of the riots, which took place after the Godhra train-burning incident, when Modi was the state CM. The documentary was banned in India soon after its release. Patel's resolution was supported by BJP MLAs Manisha Vakil, Amit Thaker, Dhavalsinh Zala and minister Harsh Sanghavi. ENS

'India can be key electronics supplier'

US commerce secretary says country is not looking for technology decoupling from China

MONIKA YADAV @ New Delhi

AMID standoff between China and the US over chip supply chain, US Commerce Secretary Gina Raimondo on Friday said India has an opportunity to become a key supplier in the entire electronics supply chain and not just semi-conductors. However, she added that the US is not looking for technology decoupling from China.

Speaking to the media after her meeting with the Commerce Minister Piyush Goyal, Raimondo further said, "We see India as a trusted technology partner. We want to continue to deepen our technological relationship with India. In fact, we recently launched iCET (initiative on critical and emerging technology) and we hope to work more closely with India, the private sector here around those technologies,"

Semi-conductor supply chain: India, US sign MoU

India and the US signed memorandum of understanding (MoU) to establish semi-conductor supply chains and innovation partnership. Canvas is vast as India and the US embark on ambitious initiative on Critical and Emerging Technologies (iCET), US commerce secretary Gina Raimondo said.

The two countries signed memorandum of understanding (MoU) to establish semiconductor supply chains and innovation partnership.

"I want to be also clear that United States doesn't seek to decouple from China, nor do we seek a technological decoupling from China. What we seek to do is ensure that certain technologies where the US is ahead and where China's explicit strategy is to have these technologies and deploy them in the Chinese military apparatus," Raimondo stated. "So, this is not about decoupling. What, it is about, though, is being eyes wide open to the fact that China is explicitly trying to get access to American technology for use in its military. We need to protect ourselves, our allies and partners from that happening," she further added.

Commenting on the MoU in seminconductor space between India and the US, Anurag Awasthi, vice President at the India Electronics and Semi-Conductor Association (IESA), said, "…..This is a notable waypoint with a raging Ukraine conflict in a post pandemic world, which has stretched the global supply chains. This MoU with the established prowess of Indian chemical industry and the current government policy of PLI (Production Linked Incentive) possesses a capacity for a large traction."

The canvas is vast as India and the US embark on the ambitious initiative on Critical and Emerging Technologies (iCET) with six focus areas of development, she said.

ASIANOMICS

PARLIAMENT APPROVES UEDA AS NEXT BOJ CHIEF

Japanese parliament on Friday approved the appointment of Kazuo Ueda as the next head of the country's central bank. Ueda will have the big task of tackling inflation and other looming risks. The nomination of Kazuo Ueda and his deputies was approved by the upper house of parliament, a day after its approval in the lower house. Ueda hails from a scholarly background unusual for a Bank of Japan governor. He has promised a smooth transition from his predecessor's 'Abenomics' ' the ultra-loose monetary policies of former Prime Minister Shinzo Abe. Until recently, the Japanese economy was stuck in deflation, a continuous spiraling down of prices, for decades. 'Abenomics' policies centered around zero or negative interest rates were designed to combat deflation. But Japan's consumer inflation rate hit a 41-year high of 4% in December. The central bank has set a 2% inflation target, but recent data show prices are rising higher than that rate.

ASIA

ASIAN STOCKS TRADE LOWER AHEAD OF US JOBS DATA

Asian stock markets on Friday fell following Wall Street ahead of an update on the US employment amid worries about possible further interest rate hikes. The Shanghai Composite Index declined 0.9% to 3,246.16 and the Nikkei 225 in Tokyo tumbled 1.2% to 28,291.89. The Hang Seng in Hong Kong fell 2.4% to 19,460.27. The Kospi in Seoul gave up 1.3% to 2,388.58 and Sydney's S&P-ASX 200 lost 1.8% to 7,181. New Zealand and Southeast Asian markets declined. Wall Street's benchmark S&P 500 index fell Thursday by its biggest one-day margin this year after Federal Reserve Chair Jerome Powell warned rates might be raised faster than expected to cool stubbornly high inflation. A government report on Thursday showed the number of Americans applying for unemployment benefits last week jumped by the most in five months but layoffs are low. Yields on the two-year Treasury, which tends to track expectations for future Fed action, eased to 4.87% from about 5.05% just before the unemployment report's release. It had been hovering at its highest level in 16 years.

PAKISTAN

US PROPOSES TO DOUBLE SUPPORT FUND TO PAKISTAN

US President Joe Biden has proposed to double the economic support fund to cash-strapped Pakistan to $82 million for fiscal 2024. "Assistance to Pakistan will expand private sector economic growth; strengthen democratic institutions; and advance gender equity and women's empowerment,' the State Department said. The assistance will support the country's recovery from devastating floods, diversify the energy supply, and support activities to build emergency preparedness capabilities, said the State Department's budgetary proposal which was sent to Congress. The budget proposes to give Pakistan $82 million for fiscal 2024, beginning in October, under the Economic Support Fund category. The support was $39 million in 2022.

Industrial output grows 5.2% in Jan

MONIKA YADAV @ New Delhi

THE country's industrial output grew 5.2% in January as against 4.7% in December, on the back of good performance of the power, mining and manufacturing sectors, according to official data released on Friday.

In the first 10 months of financial year 2022-23 (FY23), India's Industrial Product (IIP) rose 5.4%, down from 13.7% in the same period of FY22.

Eight core sector data, which was released on February 28, showed a growth of 7.8% in January, up from 7% in December. The core sector comprises 40% of the IIP, hence the improvement in eight core sectors was indicative of better IIP numbers.

The manufacturing output surged 3.7% in January from 3.1% in the previous month, while electricity production grew 12.7% in January from 10.4% in the previous month. However, mining sector output grew at a slower pace of 8.8% as compared with 10% in the month of December.

In addition, output of primary and capital goods grew 9.6% and 11% in January as against 8.4% and 7.8%, respectively, in December, as per the data.

The output of consumer durables continued to contract in January at 7.5% as against 11% in December, while intermediate goods witnessed a slight increase by 0.1% in their production.

"A portion of the continuing, albeit, narrower contraction in consumer durables, stems from weak exports. Despite the subdued base related to the third wave of Covid 19, some of the available high frequency indicators recorded a weaker y-o-y performance in February, relative to January, such as Coal India Ltd's output, rail freight traffic, ports cargo traffic, electricity generation and auto output," said Aditi Nayyar, Chief Economist with ICRA Ltd.

"In contrast, vehicle registrations and finished steel consumption saw an improved year-on-year performance in February."

Manufacturing output surges 3.7% in January

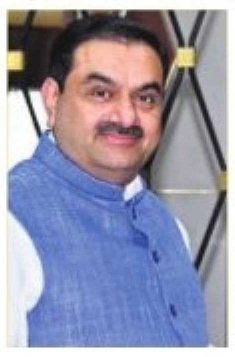
Manufacturing output surged 3.7% in January from 3.1% in the previous month, while electricity production grew 12.7% in January from 10.4% in the previous month. However, mining sector output grew at a slower pace of 8.8% as compared with 10% in the month of December.

'Adani may sell stake in Ambuja Cement for $450 mn to reduce debt'

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

GAUTAM ADANI, the promoter of the embattled Adani Group, is seeking to sell a stake in Ambuja Cement for about $450 million, according to reports. Adani is said to have made a formal request to international lenders to sell 4% to 5% in Ambuja Cements.

The stake sale in Ambuja, as per reports, is being initiated as the group seeks to rebuild investor confidence and erase concerns about its high debt by prepaying loans. The confidence of investors and lenders in Adani Group has taken a big hit after the scathing report published by the US short-seller Hindenburg Research.



Seeks investor confidence

Stake sale in Ambuja, as per reports, is being initiated as the group seeks to rebuild investor confidence and erase concerns about its high debt by prepaying loans

Clarification ought from Adani Group on this didn't invite any response.

The speculated stake sale comes more than a week after US-based GQG Partners bought shares worth ₹15,446 crore ($1.87 billion) in four Adani Group firms: Adani Ports and Special Economic Zone, Adani Green Energy, Adani Transmission and Adani Enterprises through block deals. The share purchase translates to 2.5-4.1% equity holdings in four Adani companies.

Following this investment by GQG, Adani Group said it has prepaid the ₹7,374 crore ($902 million) share-backed financing made by various international and domestic financial institutions, about two years ahead of its latest maturity date.

The conglomerate, whose net debt stood at about ₹1.96 lakh crore as of December 2022, has pledged to prepay all share-backed remaining loans by the end of March 2023. Adani Group had last year acquired Holcim AG's cement businesses in India - Ambuja and ACC Ltd - for $10.5 billion, its largest-ever acquisition. This single acquisition had made the Group county's second largest cement manufacturer overnight. Holcim had sold its 63.19% stake in Ambuja Cements Ltd and 54.53% stake in ACC (of which 50.05% stake is held through Ambuja Cements) to Adani Group.

Digital India Bill: Smartwatches, other wearable devices to be under regulation

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

DIGITAL India Bill proposes to bring smartwatches, spy camera glasses or any other wearable devices under stringent regulation.

The Bill, which will replace Information Technology Act (IT Act) 2000, will mandate the consumers for these products to go through 'strict KYC' process. The Bill also proposes ethical usage of artificial intelligence (AI)-based tools to protect rights or choices of users.

To secure cyberspace, the government is mulling to empower agencies like CERT-In for cyber resilience; strengthening the penalty framework for non-compliance, advisories on the information and data security practices, etc.

"Privacy invasive devices such as spy camera glasses, wearable tech should be mandated under stringent regulation before market entry with strict know your customer (KYC) requirements for retail sales with appropriate criminal law 19 strict KYC requirements for retail sales with criminal law sanctions," said Rajeev Chandrasekhar, Minister of State at Ministry of Electronics and Information Technology (Meity), while having public consultation on the Bill in Bengaluru on March 9, 2023.

The proposed Bill will have separate rules for content monetisation for platform-generated and user-generated content. The minister held consultations with stakeholders, and made a presentation on the objectives and goals of the Bill.

He said the proposed Bill aims to help India achieve the goal of becoming a trillion-dollar digital economy and be a significant trusted player in the global value chains for digital products, devices, platforms and solutions. "Internet that began as a force of good has today become vulnerable to complex user harms like catfishing, cyber stalking, cyber trolling, gaslighting, phishing, revenge porn, cyber-flashing, dark web, women and children, defamation, cyber-bullying, doxing, salami slicing, etc and there is an urgent need for a specialised and dedicated adjudicatory mechanism for online civil and criminal offences," he said.

The government believes, the current IT Act 2000, has limited recognition of harms and new forms of cybercrimes, without any institutional mechanism for awareness creation.

Market sees sharp fall for second straight session on weak global cues

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

MARKETS fell sharply for the second straight session as weak global cues triggered selling across the board, with banking stocks taking the maximum beating. At Close, the Sensex was down 671.15 points or 1.12% at 59,135.13, and the Nifty was down 176.70 points or 1% at 17,412.90.

Friday's fall comes after the two benchmarks (Sensex and Nifty) fell about 1% each on Thursday. The two-session bear grip made investors poorer by ₹3.3 lakh crore as the market capitalisation of all BSE listed firms on Friday came down to little less than ₹293 lakh crore.

The global equity market, including India, is facing a turbulent time after the US Federal Reserve recently stated more rate hike is on the card to keep inflation under control. This has fuelled recession fears going ahead. Further, indices were under pressure in line with a sell-off in global markets triggered by over 60% fall in US-based Silicon Valley Banks.

Prashanth Tapse, Senior VP (Research), Mehta Equities, said, "Benchmark indices continue to tumble further, as selling pressure intensified on the last trading day of the week, led by collapse in the Banking Index. Focus shifts to the US jobs report, which is likely to trickle in later today."

"The key negative takeaway was that the benchmark Nifty closed below its 200-DMA at 17434 mark. Fed Chair Jerome Powell's 'hawkish' remarks make the February jobs report the crucial event for markets to watch for."

Tata Technologies files papers for public offer

NEW DELHI: Tata Technologies, a subsidiary of Tata Motors, has filed preliminary papers with markets regulator Sebi to raise funds via initial public offering (IPO). Shares of the company are proposed to be listed on both NSE and BSE. The IPO is an offer for sale (OFS), where the company will sell up to 9.57 crore equity shares representing nearly 23.60% of its paid-up share capital, according to the Draft Red Herring Prospectus (DRHP). Under the OFS, Tata Technologies' parent company Tata Motors will offload 8.11 crore shares or a 20% stake in the company. ENS

SVB crisis to hit start-ups' fundraising ability

SACHIN KUMAR @ Mumbai

SILICON VALLEY BANK (SVB) crisis has sent shock waves in the Indian start-ups sector, which was already facing funding problem.

Fall of SVB will dent the fundraising ability of India start-ups as the US-based bank was a key source of funding for tech startups.

"Silicon Valley Bank is quite popular among US-focussed Indian startups and is among the most important capital provider to tech start-ups in India. Its failure will have serious implications on Indian start-ups," a senior official of Bengaluru-based startup told this newspaper.

Fearing that their funds may get frozen, start-up founders and investors are withdrawing funds from SVB and transferring to other banks.

When it comes to fund raising, SVB was a trusted name among Indian start-ups. Last year in September, artificial intelligence firm Netradyne that focuses on driver and fleet safety had raised $65 million Silicon Valley Bank. Later in October, Software-as-a-service (SaaS) start-up Icertis had raised $150 million through a revolving credit facility and convertible financing from the US-based bank.

The start-ups are now staring at serious fund crunch. "Fall of SVB is not good news for Indian startup ecosystem as it has significant exposure in Indian start-ups. SVB crisis will dent the fund raising ability of India start ups. When it comes to funding, US is the biggest source of funds for Indian start-ups. So any challenge there has a direct impact on Indian firms," said Rachit Chawla, CEO Finway- a financial services providing firm.

"Any liquidity tightening may force some startups to wind down their operations. The startups in India were already under pressure as we know that four out of five startups are anyway not generating profits," added Chawla.

Despite volatility, investment in equity funds at 9-month high

SACHIN KUMAR @ Mumbai

DESPITE high volatility in the stock market, investors poured in ₹15,685 crore in equity mutual funds in February, making it the highest inflows in nine months.

The inflows are 25% higher than ₹12,546 crore in January, according to figures released by the Association of Mutual Funds in India (AMFI) on Friday.

The systematic investment plan (SIP) contribution for February 2023 was ₹13,686 crore, while the number of new SIPs registered in February 2023 was 20.65 lakh.

The number of SIPs increased to 6.28 crore in the month, up from 6.21 crore in January 2023.

"Despite being a shorter month, the flows are still pretty good, which shows that retail investors are in the market for long term and they are not bothered about short-term volatility. They are looking at corrections in the market as a buying opportunity. It also shows growing maturity of retail investors," G Pradeepkumar, CEO, Union Mutual Fund told this newspaper.

"In our view, the valuation of Nifty is at a very marginal premium to the underlying fair value which makes it good time to enter the market for long-term investors," Pradeepkumar added. A total of 27 schemes were launched in February, including 21 open-ended and 6 close-ended schemes, raising a total of ₹7,187 crore.

"Retail investors continue to enter the markets via the SIP route, which is reflected in the consistent rise in SIP inflows over the last many months.

Due to the fact that February has only 28 days, there is a dip seen in SIP contribution numbers as the flows are not recorded for the full month of 31days," N S Venkatesh, chief executive, AMFI.

Govt launches PUShP portal to meet power demand during summer

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

POWER MINISTRY has launched a High Price Day Ahead Market and Surplus Power Portal (PUShP) to ensure availability of power during the peak demand season.

Earlier in February, power regulator CERC had approved the HP-DAM segment, where power can be sold at a price as high as ₹50 per unit. This year, the government expects power demand to rise much higher than last year, therefore, the gas-based plants and the imported coal-based plants will need to be scheduled and that is why a separate segment has been carved out for those generation systems.

FIH Pro League: India stun world champs Germany

Striker Sukhjeet Singh struck a second-half brace as India stunned reigning world champions Germany 3-2 in the FIH Pro League hockey, their first outing after the World Cup debacle, in Rourkela on Friday. Sukhjeet, one of the players who survived the axe after India's shock pre-quarterfinal exit in the World Cup, scored in the 31st and 42nd minutes, both goals coming from field efforts.

No clarity over CEO appointment, 'patrons' talks sore points in IOA

FLIPSIDE

INDRANEEL DAS

THE Indian Olympic Association (IOA) is set to have its first annual general meeting after the elections in December on Saturday. The agenda is set but it will be interesting to see other developments that might transpire during the meeting.

It's been more than three months now and there is no information on the appointment of a Chief Executive Officer. As of now, the joint secretary is discharging the duties of the CEO. The letter for the AGM too was signed by IOA joint secretary Kalyan Chaubey. Going by the letter, the National Sports Federations will be part of the AGM. It needs to be seen how many state units will be there. It is baffling that the IOA, the umbrella body for all affiliated NSFs, could not find a suitable candidate as of now. The newly-amended constitution says, "The IOA's Executive Council shall appoint a Secretary General/CEO within 1 (one) month from the time such a position is vacated or is lying vacant due to any reason." The constitution talks about a joint secretary taking over CEO's office but at the same time it says, "…a Joint Secretary shall function as the CEO until a new CEO is appointed within 60 days from the position being declared vacant." It is understood that it has not found a suitable candidate as of now. In fact, this is one aspect that would complete the reform process. As of now the IOA has not announced a name and needs to be seen if it is keen on appointing anyone soon.

The most challenging part of their three-month-old tenure was the wrestlers' protests and setting up of the hearing panel. However, nothing much happened after that. The IOA is the highest sports body in the country, one with great responsibility and power. The wrestlers did not appear in the first hearing and later they had apparently told the IOA that they would want the oversight committee of the sports ministry to conclude the hearing. As of now, there is no clarity from the IOA as to what happens to the committee.

There is another issue that can turn into a sore point. It is understood that during the executive committee last month, the IOA discussed naming patrons (at least five). A post that is not mentioned in the constitution and there have been occasions when the sports ministry objected to it and even the High Court had observed that such posts should not exist. This might even lead to amending the constitution. In any case, these positions, as of now, are expected to be more ornamental than decision-making. The names too seem interesting. Randhir Singh, former IOA secretary general with vast experience in sports administration; others are political leaders and an industrialist. Badminton Association of India president Himanta Biswa Sarma, Archery Association of India chief Arjun Munda, All India Tennis Association chief Anil Jain and Boxing Federation of India's Ajay Singh. It needs to be seen how the general house reacts if placed before it.

The NSFs too are in a fix. The sports ministry has stopped funding them directly because of reasons best known to them. Though some believe that this arose out of various court orders last year that asked the ministry to stop funding unless NSFs follow the sports code. It needs to be seen how the IOA tackles this issue. All eyes will be on PT Usha-led, sportsperson-heavy administration and how they assert their independence.

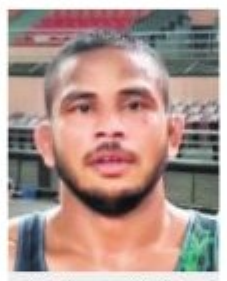
Perseverance pays off for Mulayam

FIROZ MIRZA @ Chennai

WHILE growing up, Mulayam Yadav grappled with life's extraordinary challenges. There was a time when he couldn't pay Rs 10,000 as his sports college fees let alone his dietary requirements. Add to it, he lost his father, a daily labourer, to snakebite a few years ago. Given the situation, he even thought of quitting wrestling. Hailing from Sonbarsa village of Ghazipur district (Uttar Pradesh), Mulayam was facing severe financial constraints then. His father Subba Yadav used to unload building materials apart from cultivating a small piece of land the family owns in the village to make ends meet. It was not easy.

However, his family, including uncle Dharmu Yadav, convinced him not to give up the sport. They also contemplated selling the farmland but decided against it as they managed to borrow the amount required to pay the fees. The collective effort taken by the family made Mulayam more determined as he started improving by leaps and bounds in the next few years proving his mettle at the national level.



Mulayam Yadav

On Friday, he went a step ahead as the 21-year-old grappler qualified for the Senior Asian Championships by winning the 70kg freestyle selection trials in New Delhi. It will be his first international event at the senior level. He had already bagged silver and bronze in the U-20 Asian and World Championships respectively last year.

"My elder brother wanted to be a wrestler but he could not pursue it because of our poor financial condition. He then motivated me to take up the sport. But I also faced similar situations. Had it not been my family I would have left the sport in 2018-19," Mulayam, who defeated 2022 Commonwealth Games gold medallist Naveen to finish on top of the podium in the trials, told this daily.

Mulayam lost his father in 2019. By then, he had already got selected for Inspire Institute of Sport (IIS), Bellary (Karnataka). A medal in the senior nationals followed which encouraged him to keep performing.

WIZARD OF ASH CONJURES MAGIC

On a good batting track, off-spinner brings all of his old tricks to pick up six wickets, giving hosts a fighting chance

India's R Ashwin in action during the second day of the fourth Test against Australia in Ahmedabad on Friday | AFP

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN @ Ahmedabad

IT had been a thankless, wicket-less morning session for India. Standing at third-man, Ravichandran Ashwin's right shoulder and arm was being given the once over by a support staff. An ice bag made its way up and down the arm and the shoulder. It was 33*c but the real feel was several degrees higher. Moving was going India's way, Ashwin had just finished a spell in the morning (14 in six overs) and he had tried everything. Worryingly, Cameron Green was opening up the run-scoring from one end. In the context of the game he had already bowled over 30 overs. The last time he had reached that number in India was in Kanpur in 2021.

In the post-lunch session, Ashwin again returned. For a 32nd over. After trying every other trick in the book, Rohit Sharma had gone back to two of his primary bowlers. Ashwin and Ravindra Jadeja. Ashwin answered the captain's klaxon by snaffling Green down the leg-side. While the wicket itself was down to the batter's mistake — "you don't really plan to get a batter to glove one down the leg side," as Ashwin admitted after the day's play — everything about what led to that dismissal felt like a triumph. "… even while bowling to Green, felt like he was playing beside the line for everything," Ashwin said. "(the) wicket was true for him to play against the spin for everything. So, the idea was to shut him down. That was the plan but not necessarily the way you want to get him out. Those things also need to go your way."

If there was an element of luck in the way he got Green, there was no luck in Alex Carey's dismissal. The first ball was 92 kmph. The second was 94. The third was a touch slower at 81. The fourth ball was floated wide outside off stump at 79 kmph. Carey took the bait but only managed to top-edge it to Axar Patel who was stationed at short third man. It's what Ashwin has tended to do throughout his career. Play on speeds, use the crease, change the way he loads up, work the geometry inside his head, eliminate the pitch from the equation and try to get into the head of the batters… some may call it experimentation, the man himself called it 'complexities inside my head'. The batters may have well seen a grenade come out of Ashwin's hands every time he released the ball. On a pitch where all modes of batting were varying levels of easy, the 36-year-old made it seem hard. Six for 91 in 47.2 overs across two days saw him go past another record — most number of five-wicket hauls in India — enroute restricting the visitors to a manageable 480.

On some pitches, he creates obtuse angles to create acute problems for the batters. On this surface, it was more about eliminating the strip totally and dipping into his reservoir of knowledge. Taking the last two wickets was a case in point. He used cross-seam to prise out Nathan Lyon and Todd Murphy, both of whom occupied the crease for a period of time.

It's the first time he has taken six wickets in the series but Ashwin looked at it from a more philosophical point of view. "No one spell is better than the other," he said. "Numbers don't give it five or six wickets but it's been coming out of the hand beautifully. This whole series, whatever work I have put in, change of loading, action, cocking my wrists, my spells have been more penetrative than probably in Bangladesh." While India's other bowlers went for a combined 1/191 in 55 overs, Ashwin picked 5/34 in his 22.2 overs on Friday to deliver a somewhat logic-defying spell of spin bowling on a deck that didn't aid spin bowling whatsoever.

That shoulder may be sore — he is looking forward to 'cheering on the batters with a cup of tea' all day on Saturday — but make no mistake. Do not keep taking it for granted for there will come a day when there will be no Ashwin the team can turn to on a pitch like this.

Green coming of age for Oz with golden runs

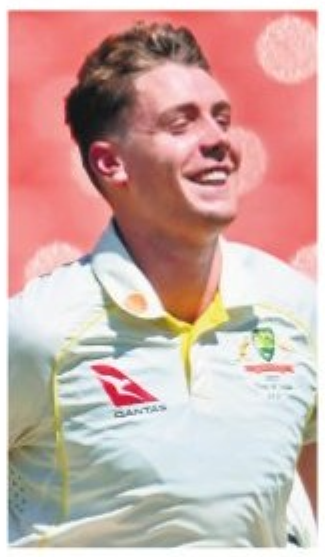
SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN @ Ahmedabad

CAMERON Green, as the kids would say, is legit. On Thursday, he took down the second new ball to shade the day in Australia's favour after the visitors won the toss on the best batting track of the series. On Friday, in what is perhaps the best batting conditions India has offered to any visiting team since the first Test at Chennai over two years ago (England were the beneficiaries then), the 23-year-old acquainted the fielders with various sides of the Narendra Modi Stadium, especially the boundary between cover and mid-off on both sides.

His innings was a masterpiece on the art of constructing a big score on a docile strip in conditions that would probably melt an ice-cream in seconds. It feels like a long time ago but when Green, playing just his second Test in India, walked in at the fall of the fourth wicket, the visitors were actually in danger of ruining the advantage of winning the toss. At 4/170 and with both Steve Smith and Marnus Labuschagne gone, there was a slight window of opportunity for the hosts. India sensed that opportunity too and targeted him with the short ball strategy.

Although Green is from Perth, playing short-pitched bowling in India can be a difficult proposition. With batters keen to get onto the front foot, it can be an effective weapon. Considering the bounce is hard to judge even on good batting surfaces, it makes it that bit harder. The third ball he faced was a bumper from Mohammed Shami and it hit his left hand. Given his considerable frame, the ball was at an awkward height and he was circumspect fending it off. Off Shami's next over, Green was hit on the right hand.

He survived the next few overs of spin to move on to 12 off 32 when the new ball was taken. That was when he flicked a switch as he launched a late assault as the Indian bowlers and fielders were striving for that extra inch on a hot day. He cut and drove Umesh Yadav before pulling Shami almost through the mid-on region. A few balls later, he drove him down the ground as a trickle of runs increased to a late flurry.



Cameron Green | AFP

Between the time India took the new ball till the time the umpire at the striker's end signalled stumps, Green had scored 37 from 32 balls to be unbeaten on 49.

On Friday morning, it felt that Green was the one who would assume the role of moving the innings forward while Usman Khawaja would continue to do his own thing; nurdling the bowling, flicking to the on side and quietly playing chess with the bowlers he had spoken about on Thursday. And so it proved to be the case but not before the 23-year-old showed some good, old fashioned Test batting values like 'getting your eye in', 'reading the pitch' and 'seeing off the first hour'.

To be fair to Khawaja, both batters did this but the 36-year-old seemed to be doing this throughout the visitors' innings. Unlike some of the other Australian middle-order batters in this series, Green's big weapon against both pace and spin are his long levers. On these slow wickets, his first movement has seen him come onto the front foot. He had already displayed some parts of that in Indore during his patient 94-minute, 57-ball 21.

That long stride forward meant the spinners hardly got a sniff against him, irrespective of the nature of the surface. Against the pacers, his front foot meant he was able to drive on the up to anything that was a bit full.

World C'ships: Boxers eye big show

The Indian boxing contingent with BFI president Ajay Singh (C) | BFI

THERE was twinkle in their eyes, smiles all around as the women's boxing team shared their thoughts during a press conference ahead of the all-important IBA Women's World Championships, which is set to kick off from March 16 in New Delhi. With the spotlight on them, most from the 12-member team were clearly a bit overwhelmed by the attention. But the recurring theme during the session was 'medal'. "I'm looking forward to it. I will look to defend my title. I hope to win gold again," Nikhat Zareen (50kg), one of the standouts in the bunch, says. Nikhat had won a gold medal in the 52-kg weight category in the 2022 edition in Istanbul.

It's the same story with Saweety Boora, the most-experienced boxer in the team who'll be taking part in the marquee event for the fifth time in her career. Competing in the 81-kg category, the Haryana boxer is also hoping to go all the way. "I won a gold medal in Asia (Championships) and I would repeat the feat in this event."

Some big teams have boycotted this event owing to existing problems with the International Boxing Association. But that does not make the event any less, especially for the Indians. With fresh faces in the coaching staff and some relatively young boxers (at the elite level), how they perform in the upcoming meet could be vital ahead of bigger events in the near future. "This is a big opportunity that I'm getting a chance to represent my country. This is happening in our country and we're hopeful that we can make the country proud," Preeti, one of the young faces who plys her trade in the 54kg category, says.

Wong, the quintessential IPL generation cricketer

Confident Giants seek momentum

After their first win of the season, Gujarat Giants will take on Delhi Capitals. A look...

Wolvaardt to bring laurels?

With Beth Mooney ruled out, Laura Wolvaardt could come in for the Giants in the middle-order if they look to strengthen the depth. Meanwhile, they might try out Ashwani Kumari as well, adding more to the balance of the squad. They will have to figure out a way to boost their death bowling soon.

Eyes on Delhi batting-order

They knew their middle-order isn't as strong and against Mumbai Indians, they were tested. Will this make Meg Lanning bring in someone like Sneha Deepthi, who has the potential to take bowling attacks apart at the top, and push herself down. They might also look at Laura Harris for Alice Capsey.

Dunkley, the X-factor for Giants

Sophia Dunkley came to the fore for the Giants against Royal Challengers Bangalore, handing them their first victory. However, against a seam attack that has Shikha Pandey, Marizanne Kapp and Tara Norris, the England opener could be challenged. And with S Meghana searching for runs, Dunkley becomes even more crucial.

BOWLERS, HEALY HAND RCB FOURTH DEFEAT

MUMBAI: Sophie Ecclestone (4/13) and Deepti Sharma (3/26) ran through RCB middle-order, bundling them out for 139 at Brabourne Stadium. In reply, Alyssa Healy (47-ball 96 n.o) took apart the RCB bowlers to guide the team home with a 10-wicket win.

Brief scores: Royal Challengers Bangalore 138 all out in 20 ovs (Perry 52; Ecclestone 4/13, Deepti 3/26) lost to UP Warriorz 139/0 in 13 ovs (Healy 96 n.o, Devika 36 n.o).

GOMESH S @ Chennai

ISSY Wong has had more than one reason to be happy in the last few days. The Mumbai Indians pacer made a mark in the opening game of the Women's Premier League, clocking 126.3 KPH (78.47MPH) against Gujarat Giants last Saturday. On Sunday, she sat back in her hotel room, enjoying the 7-0 drubbing her favourite Premier League team — Liverpool — gave Manchester United. A few days on, she was back on the field, registering 3/10 against Delhi Capitals.

The 10.25-minute long press conference from Wong after the match-winning show on Thursday sums up the 20-year-old as an athlete and a person. Competitive, unflustered by the big stage, clarity of thought about the game and tactics, witty yet realistic, and no drama whatsoever. If one had followed her over the last few years, none of this would come as a surprise.

Wong's early moment of fame came in 2019 during the now-defunct Super League when she solved the Rubik's Cube in 33 seconds. However, that wasn't all she did. On the field, the then 17-year-old was hovering over 70MPH, and declared to the world that she wanted to break the 80MPH (130KPH) barrier in the women's game.

Where does this confidence come from for a teenager? The easier answer is that she is from the next generation — the Indian Premier League one, to be precise.

Iran, Saudi to restore ties after China-brokered talks

Big win for Beijing at a time of diminished US credibility in West Asia

BEIJING

IRAN and Saudi Arabia on Friday agreed to re-establish diplomatic relations and reopen embassies after years of tensions between the two countries, including a devastating attack on the heart of the kingdom's oil production attributed to Tehran.

The deal, struck in Beijing this week amid its ceremonial National People's Congress, represents a major diplomatic victory for the Chinese.

It remains unclear, however, what this means for America. Though long viewed as guaranteeing West Asia energy security, regional leaders have grown increasingly wary of Washington's intentions after its chaotic 2021 withdrawal from Afghanistan.

The United States on Friday said it welcomes a Chinese-brokered thaw but expressed doubts that Tehran will follow through on its commitments. Iraq, the UAE and Qatar also hailed the announcement.

The two countries released a joint communique on the deal with China, which brokered the agreement. Iranian state media posted images and video it described as being taken in China of the meeting.

It showed Ali Shamkhani, the secretary of Iran's Supreme National Security Council, with Saudi national security adviser Musaad bin Mohammed al-Aiban and Wang Yi, China's most senior diplomat.

"After implementing of the decision, the foreign ministers of the both nations will meet to prepare for exchange of ambassadors," Iranian state television said. It added that the talks had been held for over four days.

China, which recently hosted Iran's hard-line President Ebrahim Raisi, is also a top purchaser of Saudi oil. President Xi Jinping visited Riyadh in December to attend meetings with oil-rich Arab nations crucial to China's energy supplies. Meanwhile, restoration of diplomatic ties represents a failure of foreign policy by Israeli PM Benjamin Netanyahu, his opponents charged on Friday.

They said he has neglected the country's external relations to focus on domestic judicial reform, a project which has split the country and brought tens of thousands of protesters into the streets. It is "a total and dangerous foreign policy failure of the Israeli government," opposition leader Yair Lapid said, echoing sentiments of the other key opponents. Agencies

FOUR DECADES OF RIVALRY

IRAN-SAUDI ARABIA RIVALRY AND COMPETITION HAVE BEEN A PRIME CAUSE OF INSTABILITY IN WEST ASIA SINCE 1979. A LOOK

ISLAMIC REVOLUTION

Tensions began soon after the Iranian Revolution of 1979, during which pro-US Shah Mohammad Reza Pahlavi was deposed from power and a government led by Shia clerics was set up. Soon, Sunni countries led by Saudi Arabia, started accusing Iran of trying to destabilise the region's Sunni governments

IRAN-IRAQ WAR

In 1980, Saddam Hussein's Iraq attacks Iran, triggering an eight-year war in which Saudi Arabia provides extensive financial support to the Iraqi dictator, who is Sunni

ARAB SPRING

Arab Spring demonstrations sweep West Asia in 2011. Saudi Arabia sends troops to Bahrain to help its forces crush Shia-led protests for an elected prime minister. Riyadh accuses Tehran of stoking tensions

The rivals square off again in 2012 as civil war takes hold in Syria. Iran backs President Bashar al-Assad and provides him with forces and funds to battle Sunni rebels

1.5 L people killed in Yemen since the start of the civil war in 2014. Analysts hope the new Iran-Saudi thaw, brokered by China, would bring some relief to Yemen

Ex-PM Muhyiddin charged with corruption, laundering

MALAYSIA: Former PM Muhyiddin Yassin was charged on Friday with corruption and money laundering. He pleaded innocent to four charges of abusing his power to obtain $51.4 million bribes for his party and two charges of money laundering involving $43 million. "It is an organised political persecution," Muhyiddin said. "I accept this charge against me with patience. ... I choose to stand upright on the principles that I hold..."

Economic mess, terror, floods: Pak in perfect storm of crises, says Bilawal

UNITED NATIONS

PAKISTAN'S foreign minister said on Thursday his country is facing "a perfect storm" of troubles—an economic crisis, the consequences of catastrophic flooding, and terrorism "that is once again rearing its ugly head" as a result of the Taliban takeover of Afghanistan.

Bilawal Bhutto Zardari, the 34-year-old son of assassinated former Prime Minister Benazir Bhutto, said in a wide-ranging interview with The Associated Press that Pakistan, like other countries, is also beset by "hyper-partisan and hyper-polarised politics."

Discussing his cash-strapped country's crushing need for financial help, he sharply criticised the International Monetary Fund, which last month delayed a $6 billion bailout over Pakistan failing to meet terms of a 2019 deal. The government blames that failure on former PM Imran Khan.

The IMF gave new instructions to Pakistan to raise and collect taxes as well as slash subsidies without burdening poor people, government officials said. Zardari said his party supports expanding revenue collection and believes those who are well off should pay more, but he said Pakistan has been unable to achieve structural tax reform "for the last 23 IMF programs that we have been a part of."

"Is it really the time to nitpick about our tax policy and tax collection while we're suffering from a climate catastrophe of this scale?" he said.

The IMF is not being fair to Pakistan, which is also dealing with 1,00,000 new refugees following the West's withdrawal from Afghanistan and "a steady uptick of terrorist activities," Zardari said. AP

Ex-Jehovah's Witness shoots 6 in Germany, pregnant woman loses baby

HAMBURG

A gunman stormed a service at his former Jehovah's Witnesses congregation in Hamburg, killing six persons before taking his own life after police arrived, authorities in the German port city said on Friday.

Police gave no motive for Thursday night's attack. But they acknowledged recently receiving an anonymous tip that claimed the man showed anger toward religious groups and might be psychologically unfit to own a gun.

Eight persons were wounded, including a woman who was 28 weeks pregnant and lost the baby. Chancellor Olaf Scholz said the death toll could rise.

Scholz, a former Hamburg mayor, lamented the "terrible incident in my home city."

"We are speechless in view of this violence," Scholz said. "We are mourning those whose lives were taken so brutally."

All of the victims were German citizens apart from two wounded women, one with Ugandan citizenship and one with Ukrainian.

Officials said the gunman was a 35-year-old German national identified only as Philipp F. Police said the suspect had left the congregation "voluntarily, but apparently not on good terms," about a year and a half ago.

The man legally owned a semi-automatic Heckler & Koch Pistole P30 handgun. He fired more than 100 shots during the attack.

Hamburg police chief Ralf Martin Meyer said the man was visited by police after they received an anonymous tip in January, claiming he "bore particular anger toward religious believers, in particular toward Jehovah's Witnesses and his former employer." AP

Telugu superstar Mahesh Babu, who has a huge fan following in Bengaluru, speaks to CE about his fitness regime, his cheat meals during holidays and how he prepares for his roles

'I STRIVE TO AUTHENTICALLY PORTRAY A CHARACTER'

MONIKA MONALISA

AT 47, Telugu superstar Mahesh Babu is one of the fittest actors who can give tough competition to any newcomer. The actor, who likes to have a disciplined fitness regime, recently started working with the celebrity nutritionist and wellness coach Luke Coutinho.

Babu, whose superhit movies like Pokiri and Dookudu have been remade in Kannada, has a huge fan following in Bengaluru. Not just his movies, but his fans are always curious to know about their favourite actor's life off-screen. "I have a busy routine, and my time is divided between my work, family, and personal growth. For me, simplicity and balance have always been key values that I hold dear," says Babu. Giving a sneak peek into his fitness regime, the actor says he likes to keep it balanced with the right work out and adequate meals. "I do a mix of weight training and cardio exercises to stay in shape. I eat a balanced, protein-rich diet along with plenty of fruits and veggies. In addition to exercising, I also practice yoga and meditation to help me recoup from stress and remain focused," he adds.

Having been given so many memorable roles like Harsha from Srimanthudu and Nanda from Athadu, the actor believes in creating characters who are authentic. "I strive to create a believable character and work on an authentic portrayal of the role I am playing. I spend a considerable amount of time researching to ensure that I can fully embody the character's emotions, motivations, and physicality," he explains.

The man, who can have anything at the tip of his fingers, tries to keep his indulgence under control. "I prefer to go on a holiday right before I begin a shoot schedule. It helps me clear my mind and start with a clear vision. Even when I'm on a holiday, I keep track of what I eat and make sure I don't overindulge in cheat meals," says Babu.

A still from Sarkaru Vaari Paata

On the personal front, it has been tough for the actor as he lost his father, veteran actor Ghattamaneni Siva Rama Krishna Murthy at the end of last year. Professionally, Babu, who was last seen in the movie Sarkaru Vaari Paata, recently wrapped the shoot for his next movie SSMB 28, which also stars Pooja Hegde and Samyuktha Menon. The shoot of the movie was delayed due to the loss of his father. The forthcoming film, which was earlier slated to release on April 28, will be released on August 9.

SECRET BEHIND THE SUCCESS

If you want to know the secret behind the fitness of some of your favourite celebrities, Luke Coutihno is the person who could have this answer. His latest association is with Telugu superstar, Mahesh Babu. Coutinho, co-founder of Cafe Reset, says good health and fitness aren't just for a fit body, rather it is inclusive of many factors like solid emotional wellness, happiness, strong and healthy relationships, a good sleep routine, and the ability to rest and recover. "Mahesh Babu is with us not just to achieve a good physique. It is also to achieve it in the right way and create a well-rounded life that nurtures him both now and in the future. This means focusing on crucial aspects of wellness handling stress on a day-to-day basis, and achieving fulfilment in his personal life," he explains.

LOW-PROOF COCKTAILS

WE love a classic Martini or Manhattan, but sometimes an occasion calls for a more sessional drink. Whether you're extending an evening of imbibing, or simply in the mood for a light and refreshing cocktail. Low-proof (or low-ABV) cocktails let you get you drink on without ruining the rest of your day. These cocktails are ideal for brunch and day-drinking, and they tend to be lower in calories as well. For me, a true low-proof cocktail should only use low-proof ingredients. No individual ingredient should be higher than 25% alcohol by volume. Meaning no base spirits such as vodka or tequila (at 40% abv) or whiskey or gin (at 45-50% abv). It even eliminates liqueurs like Grand Marnier. My preferences are to use Liqueurs (less than 25% ABV), wine, sparkling wine, vermouth and fortified wines like sherry and port.

'KABZAA IS A MAJESTIC PERIOD DRAMA'

says Shriya Saran, who talks about her role, Madhumathi in the period drama directed by R Chandru and the evolution of content in cinema over the years

Shriya Saran

A SHARADHAA

SHRIYA Saran is an acting powerhouse, who has portrayed amazing characters in her illustrious career both south and in Bollywood as well. She is an actor, who still maintains clout among her fans, and who is always excited about returning to films, and upcoming projects. The actor, who was in the spotlight, for a pivotal role in RRR, her Bollywood film, Dhrisyam2, has all eyes on her upcoming film, Kabzaa. "I am grateful to people, and 'lord Krishna" who has channeled me to this point in life. I am passionate the work I do. It feels lucky and blessed to be an actor. Especially for someone who was a girl next door to be able to tell so many stories through so many characters feels always special, " admits Shriya, on the sidelines of the film's release, which will be out in multiple languages.

Ask her, if the process of script selection has changed post marriage and parenting. "Not really. But the way filmmakers have started making cinema has changed. Over the years, people are more exposed to different genres. Now they are not restricting films because of their genre or region. I think the content is the key."

An actor, who is open to being part of a pivotal character, as far as it makes an impactful, also opines that she is not choosy about the roles, but the directors are instead selective in offering her the characters. She has a checklist to reveal. "If it is a good director and a good story that adds value to my profile, I will do it. It is all about being in the right place and at the right time. The writers pen a story for certain kind of actors, sometimes, it works and sometimes, it doesn't. A lot of aspects and combinations go into the making of a film."

Coming to Kannada, Shriya Saran debuted in Sandalwood with Puneeth Rajkumar's Arasu (cameo appearance) and followed it with just two films including Kabzaa, and in long gaps. However, Shriya maintains that is her been the case with every language. "I was shifting between Tamil, Telugu and sometimes I get occupied with Hindi projects. Each project needs at least six months of time, from start and finish, and sometimes a year. There was always a gap between each languages. Having said that comparitively, I have done less films here. This will be literally my second film, and it is releasing on the birth anniversary of my first Kannada co-star (Puneeth Rajkumar), the most loved actor. March 17 is a big day for us, and for the whole of the Kannada industry," she says.

There was a lot of speculation about top heroines joining Kabzaa before Shriya was announced to be the lead. Asked how she landed up with the project, she says," I fell in love with the character and the way the director had sketched the female lead. I was blown by the intensity and the desire that Chandru as a filmmaker had to make a film on this massive scale. I wanted to make a comeback in Kannada, and it also happened to be a pan-India film. I also wanted to work with Upendra and Sudeep. Kabzaa was a combo offer. I'm glad, I am part of it."

Kabzaa is the next big film from Kannada that has created hype across India. Shriya, who has worked in multiple languages and with top stars, does she keep a tab of the various works that are happening in different industries. " Well, I don't understand the business side of these films because I can never produce them. I can only understand my work, which is going and acting. I haven't been watching many films but I watched KGF and Kantara. They were amazing. As I said, it is a great time to be in the cinema, and it not about the language anymore. How local you are, how honest you are, and how much heart you put heart into it matters."

Kabzaa is set in a pre-independence era, and Shriya throws light on her role. " RRR is a period drama, and Kabzaa, which is also a period film has taken the genre to another level. 'A royal queen, a princess, who is strong, beautiful, and talented.' This was the description Chandru gave to my role and he has successfully delivered it. I had a great team backing it -- Sithara Kudige designed my outfit. My team Mahender, and Priyanka did great work in making me look like a queen. Cinematographer AJ Shetty shot it beautifully. The entire film looks majestic and shows Madhumati the way she deserves to be."

The actor also shares her experience working with Upendra. "He is a star and a talented actor. Many have asked me to catch his directorials. I was blown away by his simplicity. He is humble and has a great sense of humour. He really likes his craft and loves the job. It was interesting to see, someone so successful, being down to earth. It was a good experience. I would love to work under his directorial too," she says.

Shriya, who is relishing the back to back to successes of RRR and Dhrisyam 2, has got Kabzaa in the line up. " I thank all the directors, right from SS Rajamouli. His film going to Oscars, and song Naatu Naatu taking the centre stage makes me proud. I'm blessed to have worked with him twice. Director Abhishek Pathak did a great job in Dhrishyam 2, and now I feel lucky to have worked in R Chandru's Kabzaa," she sums up.

Sci-fi drama sans any spectacle

MANDALA

Director: Ajay Sarpeshkar
Cast: Anant Nag,Prakash Belawadi, Sharmiela Mandre, Kiran Srinivas, Samyukta Hornad, and Sudha Belawadi

RATING 2.5/5

A SHARADHAA

WITH Mandala, director Ajay Sarpeshkar takes the Sandalwood audience to an unexplored territory of alien films and blends it with curiosity, fear, and suspense. But the film deliberately lacks the grandeur that is usually associated with Hollywood sci-fi films we are used to. The film daringly shows the fact that it has been made on a minimum budget. And this is both the strength and the weakness of Mandala. While it is thoughtful, refreshing, and welcoming even without the high-end VFX, it misses out massively on the spectacle it could have potentially been, reducing itself to mere drama.

The story revolves around Arjun (Kiran Srinivas), an Indian-American amateur theatre artist who comes to India to meet his girlfriend Maya (Sharmiela Mandre), an aerospace Engineer. However, within a couple of days, Arjun heads to the police station with a complaint that his girlfriend has been abducted by a UFO. While none is convinced, and he is considered a suspect, Arjun receives help from Murthy (Anant Nag), a retired investigative journalist, and his wife, Yashodha (Sudha Belawadi), a hacker. With a backstory for the alien, the film treads through some interesting narratives involving the police and journalists, finally leading to an open-ended climax hinting a sequel.

Coming from an engineering background and claiming to be a fan of sci-fi, Ajay's exploration of such a premise along with drama and his vision of an alien world is well delivered through the characters played by Prakash Belawadi, Anant Nag, Sharmiela Mandre, and Kiran Srinivas. The plot is inspiring, but the director has a long way to go in terms of the making and hopefully, the sequel will see him giving more importance to technology and less on drama.

Sharmiela Mandre is convincing as the aerospace engineer, and she has accordingly worked on her looks and body language. Kiran Srinivas, who plays the role of an amateur theatre artist, is effective, while the key cast of Anant Nag, Prakash Belawadi, Samyukta Hornad, and Sudha Belawadi seem to have enjoyed experimenting with a new subject. The sci-fi subject needed a little more attention from the music director, cinematographer, and especially from the VFX team. After entering the world of Mandala, the film doesn't deliver much action or thrills; excluding the interesting bits that involve UFOs and aliens. Desptie not being a spectacle, Mandala still makes for an interesting watch and makes you think about the unknown worlds.

RANA NAIDU

Created by: Karan Anshuman

Directed by: Suparn Varma, Karan Anshuman

Cast: Venkatesh, Rana Daggubati, Surveen Chawla, Ashish Vidhyarthi

Streaming on: Netflix

AVINASH RAMACHANDRAN

FOR people who grew up watching Telugu cinema of the 80s and 90s, Venkatesh was the comfort that was needed between the avalanche of masala movies and the barrage of offbeat films. It wasn't like he did middle-of-the-road films, but Venkatesh was a calming factor in both masala and offbeat films. His presence in a film guaranteed a sense of sophistication. He exuded an aura of a caring elder brother who would be there for anyone who comes to ask for help. That is why Netflix's latest, Rana Naidu, is a terrific experience. Here, Venkatesh plays the politically incorrect, foul-mouthed, brash, and disrespectful Naga Naidu, the father of the titular protagonist, played by his real-life nephew Rana Daggubati. The never-ending swear words notwithstanding, Venkatesh plays a despicable father who deserves the hate that comes his way from his own family. Once again, the USP of Rana Naidu is the casting choice of Venkatesh. He might not have the titular role, but there is no doubt who walks away with the plaudits.

An official adaptation of the English series, Ray Donovan, Rana Naidu is about a fixer for celebrities. While it might not seem that normal a profession in India, the makers get right into the efficacies of these agencies that ensure PR disasters are averted, mostly in the nick of time. And Rana is brilliant as Rana Naidu, who spends time running around fixing the problems of others, and miserably fails to keep his own problems in check. His kids stop trusting him because of his frequent excuses. His wife doesn't trust him because she thinks he is having an affair. His brothers are battling internalised scars of their own. Rana Naidu is suave enough to avert a pregnancy racket that extorts money from huge celebrities, but cannot deal with his teenage daughter falling in love with someone.

A rather faithful adaptation of Ray Donovan, it is impressive how the writers use the various subplots of the original. They are brilliantly incorporated into the show in points different from Ray Donovan. Rana Naidu is more of a family drama where the moments shared between the family members are the most grounding aspect of the show. The vulnerability and the downward spiral are wonderfully written and beautifully performed by some of the best talents of Indian cinema. With a running time of over 400 minutes, cut across 10 episodes, Rana Naidu definitely warranted the number of subplots that finds their way into this drama about a dysfunctional family. In fact, in a nice touch, most of the problems involving people around Rana Naidu are also about family. Be it the top politician suffering from memory loss, Rana's brothers finding redemption from their own losses, Naga's fourth child trying to join the Naidu pack, or even an aspiring rapper who moves from Worli to SoBo, Rana Naidu acts as the corollary of Karan Johar's iconic tagline from Kabhi Khushi Kabhie Gham — It's all about loving your parents…or in this case… not loving your parents.

Apart from Venkatesh and Rana, who deliver definitive performances in Rana Naidu, the ensemble, featuring the likes of Ashish Vidhyarthi, Abhishek Banerjee, Sushant Singh, Suchitra Pillai, and Surveen Chawla, are terrific in roles that offer them so much. Each of these characters has a compelling and well-rounded arc that is separate from Rana Naidu, and it points at a positive step forward. The thread involving Abhishek's Jaffa, and Sushant's Tej are heartwrenching and heartwarming. In fact, Rana Naidu has various representations of parents, and it is actually an honest reflection of how there is no 'one shoe fits all' style when it comes to parenting.

The premise of having a family from Hyderabad migrate to Mumbai for better prospects is a fascinating idea for the way it incorporates Telugu into the largely Hindi-speaking series. It is impressive how the makers don't even try to mask the accented dialogue delivery of the protagonists. It is a nice touch to show the diversification of our content.

Apart from an excellent exploration of dysfunctional families, Rana Naidu also does a deep dive into childhood trauma, dealing with infidelity, the fickle-mindedness of the influential, and the bravado of the outsiders. It has a no-holds-barred approach to the parent-child relationships and is a stark reminder of how a lot of us gloss over the creases in our equations instead of putting up a brave front and dealing with it.

Rana Naidu unabashedly embraces its greyness and doesn't shy away from accepting that the characters are flawed. There is random extortion and blackmailing happening at the drop of a hat. There are unbridled sexual scenes between various characters. There are murders happening with alarming frequency. There is almost no remorse when people drop dead like flies. In between all of this, we have the usually docile Venkatesh giving it all as the Naga Naidu. He is hilarious, and gets the best of lines, the best of scenes, and just the best of everything in Rana Naidu. Credit to the writers and the actor for ensuring even when he is saying the vilest of things, and doing the ugliest of activities, we still see him as the grumpy old man with an acerbic tongue but a heart of at least bronze. In fact, Naga Naidu returns to normal life with his kids after a 15-year jail term for a crime he didn't commit. So, he is also seen as a work in progress. The way he proclaims himself to be a feminist, and his politically incorrect vocabulary, might not have augured well for any other actor, but there is something inherently nice about Venkatesh that we are in awe of him trying to break stereotypes. However, it doesn't mean what happens is right either. There are more than a few instances where I winced at the dialogues, and it felt shocking, to say the least. The question of 'how far is too far' resurfaces about the writers pushing the envelope.

Ray Donovan ran for seven seasons and had a feature film to end things. From what we have seen in season 1, Rana Naidu has the fuel to run for the same, if not for more, and it is clear that as long as Venkatesh and Rana have fun, so will we.
